UNDER TREATMENT

Bert Klahn Suspended

Bert Klahn was suspended as executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency yesterday following a closed meeting of commissioners of the two agencies.

Reason for the suspension was not officially announced.

Klahn was reported under a psychiatrist's care at Ross Hospital. He was taken to a San Francisco hospital last Thursday — the day after his wife had him arrested on a charge of assault and battery—and subsequently transferred to Ross.

BERT KLAHN
Salary cut off

16 YEARS

Klahn has been director of the housing auhority for 16 years and of the redevelopment agency since its formation seven years ago.

He has not been fired, Alton Lerch, chairman of the redevelopment agency, said today.

"We can't take any positive action without violating the doctor's orders," Lerch said. "Klahn was suspended in order to give him the rights to state his case before his employers."

$15,000 PAY

Klahn's $15,000 a year salary has been cut off.

Donald O. Stutsman, deputy director, was named acting director of both agencies. He will receive the $15,000 salary temporarily, Lerch said.

Last Wednesday at 6:15 p.m., Klahn was found asleep in his car in the Corinthian Yacht Club parking lot by his wife, Eleanor.

She reported to Belvedere police that she took Klahn to their home at 180 Beach Road where, she said, he hit her on the face, tripped her and forced her to the floor.

36TH CALL

Klahn was jailed on a citizen's arrest charging assault and battery by his wife, but the charge was dropped when Mrs. Klahn failed to sign the complaint.

Belvedere police said it was the 36th call since Aug. 17, 1959, from the Klahns, all listed as disturbing the peace. Police have made 20 reports out on the Klahns, two in 1959, five in 1960, two in 1961, eight in 1962, and three this year.

Klahn was charged by his wife last Dec. 1 with assault and battery charges after a fracas in which she hit him on the head with a coal shovel, allegedly in self-defense.

In April, 1959, before the Klahns moved to Belvedere from Palo Alto, Klahn was arrested by Palo Alto police on an assault and battery charge made by his wife. In this, as in other cases, Mrs. Klahn subsequently refused to sign a formal complaint.

Rain Total Generous For Marin

Generous rain totals were recorded in Marin County today in the wake of a storm which drenched Woodacre with two inches moisture and averaged well over an inch in most other areas.

No heavy damage was reported, but Mill Valley's Ethel Avenue remained closed today between Robertson Terrace and Mirabel Avenue after mud poured over a new retaining wall.

San Rafael reported a total rainfall of 1.29 inches; Novato had 1.37; Sausalito, 1.22; Tamalpais Valley, 1.16; Belvedere, 1.03; Mill Valley, 1.06; and Chevy Chase in Larkspur, 1.36.

Weather prediction for the Bay area tomorrow is fair skies accompanied by northwesterly winds of 15 to 30 miles an hour.

Heavy snows in the Siskiyous and the Sierra were still falling at noon today. Twenty inches was reported on U.S. Highway 50 over Echo Summit. Tire chains were required from Strawberry to the foot of Meyers Grade at Lake Tahoe.

The division of highways said rockslides and snow have closed the Emerald Bay Road around the lake.

The storm left more than an inch of rain in the Los Angeles area and six inches on nearby mountains. It caused numerous floods, slides and power failures in Southern California, according to Associated Press, and several lives were lost in traffic accidents blamed on moisture.

Brown Pleads For No Vote On Housing

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown pleaded with Californians today to boycott initiative petitions seeking to repeal the state's new fair housing law.

He said he was fearful that an election campaign over the issue would "pit race against race."

Brown, at a news conference, assailed the proposed initiative as "one of the most dangerous and inflammatory initiatives I have ever seen."

The legislature, he said, is the proper place to rewrite the Rumford act which barely squeezed through the 1963 legislature. It outlaws discrimination in the sale or rental of most publicly-assisted housing.

"If sentiment builds up against it," the governor said, "we can repeal it."

The California Real Estate Assn. has set out to obtain the required signatures to place its measure on the next state ballot. Beyond repealing the Rumford act, it would write in constitutional provisions prohibiting any legislation, state or local, against property rights.

Taxes, water, guns, billboards and politics also came up at Brown's far-ranging news conference.

FINANCES — The governor said a legislative analyst's report on state government costs gave a false picture. The report noted that expenditures have gone up 862 per cent since 1946. A far more realistic figure, Brown said, was the fact that state taxes have increased only 6 per cent since 1950 as compared with the 33.9 per cent average for industrial states.

WATER—Brown said he opposes transfer of any California water to Arizona "at this time." The export is contemplated in the 1990 second phase of the Udall Southwest Pacific water plan. The governor, who has said he favors a regional plan, reserved comment.

GUNS—Brown said he was disturbed by the ease with which parolees can buy firearms in this country and declared the laws should be radically changed.

BILLBOARDS — The governor indicated he may resubmit legislation to prohibit billboards on scenic highways to the 1964 session. He emphasized the loss of five-million-dollars in federal funds as the result of the 1963 bill's defeat, and said maybe the money could be used to pay damages to billboard companies for removal of their signs.

POLITICS — Brown said he would withhold any comment until Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, makes up his mind whether to run for president or governor. Rafferty said recently he'd be willing to be a candidate for either job under the right conditions.

As for the statement by Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee (R-Salinas), that he might run for governor on a lottery platform, Brown said he can't believe the voters would be so foolish as to support such a proposal.

Attorney Storer In Marin Race

Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer today announced he will be a candidate for supervisor from the Fourth (West Marin) District next June 2.

Tomales rancher James A. Marshall announced last week that he would be a candidate in the June primary. Supervisor George Ludy, who unseated Marshall in 1960, has indicated he will run.

Storer said of the present supervisor: "Ludy has proved himself ineffectual. In nearly three years in office he has not presented one immaginative idea to the people of Marin County."

He also commented on Marchall's running for office. "While I have great respect and the highest personal regard for Jim Marshall, I earnestly believe the future of our area needs and deserves new representation with a fresh, energetic and forward looking approach," he said.

Storer, who at 35 is the youngest of the three candidates, has lived in Inverness Park since May, 1959. Prior to joining the district attorney's staff in 1961, Storer practiced law in Point Reyes Station.

In announcing his platform, Storer said: "I am aiming principally for a closer relationship between the people of West Marin and their representative. For that reason I would plan regular office hours at Point Reyes Station and Tomales."

His platform includes:

1. More publicity on board matters of public interest, and occasional night meetings to give residents a chance to air their views and grievances.
2. Preservation of the present character of West Marin and development of the West Marin highway route primarily with state and federal funds.
3. Consistency in planning and zoning matters and a real-

Quentin Hearings Are Under Way

Associate Warden Dale Frady said the session would probably last well into afternoon. Being heard are 20 inmates of the adjustment center building who Sunday staged a noise-and-damage spree within their cells.

Safe At Purity Store Is Looted By Burglars

'Muscular' Thieves Cut Through Roof

Safecrackers who must have been both slender and muscular looted the safe of the Purity Store in Novato sometime during last night of an undisclosed amount of money.

"It was obviously the work of professionals," said Acting Chief Robert Di Grazia of Novato police today as he surveyed the ripped-open strongbox.

The burglars cut a 14-by-15 inch hole in the roof of the store in the Nave Shopping Center, covered the hole with coats left by two employees to keep light from showing through it. Then they loaded the 750-pound safe on a handtruck and hauled it 70 feet to the rear of the store. They "peeled" the door with a sledge hammer and cold chisel—which they did not leave behind.

A drill used to cut the hole in the roof was found, Di Grazia said.

Alfred Matteri, store manager, discovered the break-in when he arrived at the store shortly before 8 a.m. today.

He said he did not know how much money was in the safe because he "had not balanced the cash." Di Grazia said it is Purity Stores policy to not disclose the amount stolen in burglaries of its markets.

"It was obviously the work of professionals," said Di Grazia. He commented also that "it had to be a small man to get through that little hole" in the roof.

New Manager In Mill Valley

Bert A. Balmer, assistant city manager of Fresno, will start work Jan. 2 as city manager of Mill Valley.

Balmer, 47, was unanimous choice of the Mill Valley City Council following interviews of about 30 candidates, Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said today.

He will succeed A. E. Almcrants, who has been city manager 12 years and who resigned Oct. 21, his resignation not to take effect before Dec. 31.

Balmer and his wife have three children. The new city manager is expected to come to Mill Valley to look for a home prior to January, and is expected to attend one or more city council meetings and meet city employees and others.

A native of Washington state, Balmer was graduated from University of Washington in 1946. He received his mas-

Goerndt Hearing Night Changes

The Sausalito Board of Review will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the city hall to continue its hearing on ousted Police Chief Howard Goerndt, board chairman Robert M. Gunn said today.

The board will not meet tomorrow night, as previously set, because the Sausalito Recreation Commission will be using the hall.

Keaton Bows To Decision On Coroner

County Coroner Frank J. Keaton said today he will not assign any more coroner cases to his own mortuaries, but said he would accept the job of making private funeral arrangements for coroner and public administrator cases, if the families wished.

He said he would continue to assign coroner cases impartially on a territorial basis, but would exclude his own mortuaries in San Rafael and Sausalito, bowing to an opinion from the attorney general's office yesterday that such assignments are a conflict of interest.

As far as private cases are concerned, however, he said the ruling would not apply.

National Banks Can Bid On State Notes

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A federal ruling will permit national banks to bid tomorrow on 50 million dollars in short term state notes for water project financing, State Treasurer Bert A. Betts said today.

Betts said federal Comptroller of Currency James Saxon ruled that banks can underwrite the notes as well as buy them for their own investment.

FATHER AND SON STILL MISSING

Check Throughout State Discloses No Accident Involving Novatans' Auto

Check throughout the state has disclosed no report of any accident involving the station wagon in which a Novato father and son disappeared two weeks ago, Acting Chief Robert Di Grazia of Novato police said today.

Neither has any other clue been unearthed to the disappearance of the Floyd M. Brickners, Sr. and Jr., of 821 Sweetzer Avenue.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Brickner Sr. said her husband and son actually left on what was to have been a brief camping trip on Nov. 6, not Nov. 8 as she reported yesterday.

"I checked back on the calendar last night and found I had reported the wrong date," she said. "They left on a Wednesday."

Last week, Mrs. Brickner learned from Edward E. Lehman of Orangevale, Sacramento County, that he had found her husband's wallet, containing identification papers but no money, beside Highway 40 between Fairfield and Vacaville. Novato police had no success yesterday and today in attempting to reach Lehman to learn details of the discovery.

Mrs. Brickner also insisted there was "something wrong" about a postcard she received in the mail last Friday, saying to call 224-7987 on "a matter of utmost importance." Mrs. Brickner said she called that number and got a "Mrs. Jefferson" who said she had "received five calls this morning." A call yesterday by an Independent-Journal reporter reached a Woodrow Sherwood, who said he and his wife had talked with Mrs. Brickner. However, Mrs. Brickner said no man spoke to her on the phone call.

Chief Di Grazia today said, "The story has been in the Rocket Test Set In Bay Tomorrow

The 17-000-pound-thrust rocket will be held a few feet above the San Francisco Bay water during the five to eight second firing.

The liquid propellant Sea Horse rocket, a modified Corporal artillery weapon developed by the Army and now obsolete, will be static fired under water in future tests to gain information on how rockets function in the sea, Aerojet said.

Lab Tests On Blood

ALBANY (AP) — Laboratory tests as to the nature and type of the dried pool of blood that police believe could have come from the body of missing coed Judy Williamson continued today.

Meanwhile police said they had no definite suspects and were no closer to solving the mystery of what happened to the 18-year-old sophomore who disappeared Oct. 29.

Norman Thomas Is 79

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Socialist Norman Thomas, unsuccessful in six bids for the presidency of the United States, turns 79 today and does not choose to run again.

In Los Angeles to talk on civil rights, Thomas commented that the re-election of John F. Kennedy "would be the best thing probably—but not what my heart deeply desires."

Airmen Die In Blast

ROSWELL, N.M. (UPI)—Three airmen were killed and four were injured yesterday when a B-52 jet bomber exploded and burned on the flight line at Walker Air Force Base. A base spokesman said the cause of the explosion in the bomber, which had a partial fuel load, was not determined immediately.

New Aircraft's Engines Run Up

MARIETTA, Ga. — The Free World's most powerful aircraft engines were run up on the Air Force's C-141 Starlifter for the first time here last week.

Run-ups of the new Pratt and Whitney TF33-P-7 fan-jets were successful and on schedule, C. S. Wagner, Lockheed-Georgia Co. vice president, reported. They are among the last checks to be made before the large cargo-troop carrier flies in December.

Each engine weighs nearly three tons, and each produces 21,000 pounds of thrust.

Recall Vote Fails In Sonoma

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—E. J. Guidotti, Sonoma County supervisor for 21 years, still held the post today after beating down an attempt to recall him.

The county special election office said returns from all 21 districts in the tiny voting district involved showed that 1,424 voters opposed Guidotti's recall and 1,205 backed it.

The recall petition charged the 63-year-old Guerneville real estate man with general misconduct, and also tied in with the battle over Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s proposed nuclear power plant on Bodega Head.

Students Seize London Iraq Embassy

LONDON (AP)—More than 300 Iraqi students forced their way into the Iraqi Embassy here today and seized control of the entire building.

Almost all the embassy staff left as the students, chanting slogans against the Iraqi regime of President Abdel Salam Aref, moved in.

A student leader said the students were demonstrating against "the Aref regime and the military dictatorship. We are supporting the Ba'Ath party."

Police Flush Caracas Snipers

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police firing bazookas flushed snipers from buildings in downtown Caracas today as officials strove to quell pro-Communist violence that has left nearly 100 dead or wounded.

A woman was killed and six other persons, including a policeman, were wounded as fighting spread from the workers' suburbs to El Silencie, a district of modern business buildings.

Coming on the heels of Venezuela's worst day of terrorism yesterday, the new casualties put the two-day toll at 20 killed and 76 wounded.

Cracker Jack Sale

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ever wish you owned 10 zillion boxes of Cracker Jacks? Or even the Cracker Jack factory?

Well, the Cracker Jack Co. is up for sale. A Chicago dairy firm has announced it is negotiating to purchase it.

Power Estate Fuss

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of Tyrone Power's three former wives say $70,000 in extraordinary fees for handling the actor's estate are too high for an estate of $273,417.81.

Deborah Jean Loew, Power's widow, and actress Linda Christian, his second wife, filed objections in court yesterday to a request for $30,000 by co-executors and $40,000 by attorneys for extraordinary services in settling Power's estate.

500 Flood Victims

The Public Health Department reported about 500 bodies had been recovered following floods and landslides last weekend in the northern part of the country.

Reform For Mass

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today completed approval of a liturgical provision allowing use of modern languages in place of Latin in much of the Roman Catholic Mass.

The reform could help stimulate better understanding between Catholics and Protestants.

Negroes Win Bar Suit

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Seven Negro men have won an $800 out-of-court settlement and an apology from a bar owner who refused to serve them.

The men said they went into the Silver Dollar, a Santa Rosa bar, on May 20, 1962, and were refused service. They subsequently filed a $14,000 damage suit against the owner, Thomas Perry.

Travel Agents Will Be Probed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislative committee, reporting numerous complaints of possible fraud, today announced a study of the operations of California travel agents.

Chairman Alan Short (D-Stockton) of the Senate Business and Commerce Committee scheduled the hearing for Dec. 4 in San Francisco.

"Last summer several California residents were left stranded in Europe and on the East Coast because of the acts of these agents," Short said.

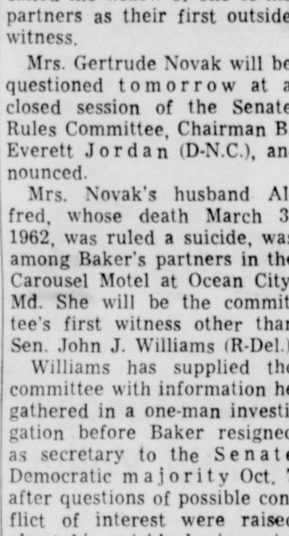
CAMBODIA REJECTS U.S. FOREIGN AID

$30-Million Economic, Military Program To End; Ruling Prince Charges Viet-Like Coup Planned

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian Foreign Ministry summoned U.S. Ambassador Philip D. Sprouse today, presumably to deliver orders from ruling Prince Norodom Sihanouk for an immediate end to the 30-million-dollar-a-year program of U.S. military and economic aid to his country.

Sihanouk announced his decision to a widely cheering rally of his political party yesterday. He charged U.S. aid was being used to undermine his regime and that rebel Cambodians based in South Viet Nam were using American equipment.

The prince said he did not want to sever diplomatic relations with the United States but that "all U.S. missions other than a skeleton diplomatic staff must go."



CAMBODIA (SHADED)
Severs U. S. military ties

CHARGES DENIED

The State Department earlier yesterday instructed Sprouse to inform the Cambodian government that the prince's charges were false. But Sihanouk apparently acted before the denial could be transmitted to him.

Work on U.S. aid projects actually halted yesterday after Sihanouk's speech. American officials said the various aid programs would be phased out as fast as possible.

Cambodia has a foreign exchange reserve of about 90 million dollars which should keep the little Southeast Asian nation solvent for several years. But a break in economic ties with the United States is expected to hit the Cambodian economy hard.

IMPORT PROGRAM

Funds derived from the U.S. commercial import program in Cambodia paid for about 40 per cent of the upkeep of the nation's small armed forces, but most of the military training is handled by a French mission of about 800 men.

Cambodia also receives some economic aid from the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Sihanouk's decision to cut economic ties with the United States was generally attributed to a widespread belief that U.S. aid cuts in South Viet Nam last summer resulted in the military coup that overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Widow Of Baker Aide To Be Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating the steaming Robert G. Baker case have called the widow of one of his partners as their first outside witness.

Mrs. Gertrude Novak will be questioned tomorrow at a closed session of the Senate Rules Committee, Chairman B. Everett Jordan (D-N.C.), announced.

Mrs. Novak's husband Alfred, whose death March 3, 1962, was ruled a suicide, was among Baker's partners in the Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md. She will be the committee's first witness other than Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del.).

Williams has supplied the committee with information he gathered in a one-man investigation before Baker resigned as secretary to the Senate Democratic majority Oct. 7 after questions of possible conflict of interest were raised about his outside business interests.

Stranger Gave Professor Role Of Paper, Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — Photographs bundled inside a roll of newspapers and thrust into his hands by a stranger in front of a Moscow hotel apparently were Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn's passport to arrest seconds later by Soviet police.

In the 16 days that he was imprisoned on spy charges, he told newsmen yesterday, he was not mistreated and signed no confessions.

He said his experience has not shattered his belief that cultural exchange programs between the United States and Russia are a good thing.

Professor Barghoorn, 52, who was released Saturday and returned home Sunday, met with State Department officials for six hours yesterday to talk about his Moscow experience. Then he met with newsmen, telling this story:

On the eve of his planned departure from Moscow, he returned to the Metropole Hotel. Suddenly he was approached by a "youngish-looking man, carrying what looked like a roll of newspapers."

The man asked something which Barghoorn believes was: "Are you an American?"

"I was startled, said yes, and he pushed toward me the roll of newspapers. I took it. I thought, perhaps foolishly, that it was propaganda material and put it into my coat. Almost simultaneously I was grabbed and hustled off in an automobile."

Washington reports the Peace Corps needs 9,000 volunteers to meet the requests of host countries in 1964.

Soviet Diplomats Beaten In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Congolese security agents and gendarmes dragged two Soviet diplomats feet first from their car yesterday, beat them with clubs and hauled them off to jail.

They were still held today.

Soviet embassy officials said the diplomats were embassy counsellor Boris Noronin and press attache Yuri Miakotnykh. The officials said they had no word on their fate.

Eyewitnesses said Noronin and Miakotnykh refused to allow the Congolese to search their car on their return from Brazzaville, across the Congo River. The diplomats claimed diplomatic immunity.

Soviet embassy officials said the Congolese also had cut the telephone and electric supply to the luxury apartment where the 100-man Soviet mission lives and works.

Sources close to the Congolese government hinted that "highly compromising" documents had been seized from the two arrested diplomats.

Gendarmes stood guard outside the embassy building last night, refusing to allow callers to enter.

Relations between the Congolese government and the Communist block have been bad, and some members of Premier Cyrille Adoula's regime recently were agitating for a break with the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria, the Communist nations with which the Congo has diplomatic relations.

An eyewitness to the arrest of the two Russians said when they refused to allow a search of their car at the Brazzaville ferry landing, the Congolese let all the air out of the car's tires.

Finally, the Congolese forced open the car doors, dragged the Russians out and threw them into a Congolese army truck. When they tried to get off the truck, they were beaten with clubs, the witness said.

Railway Express May Raise Its Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Railway Express Agency may raise its minimum charge for intrastate air express shipments from $3.50 to $4, the State Public Utilities Commission said yesterday.

The higher rate may go into effect on 10 days notice. It will bring the charge to parity with interstate air rates.

Automation Job Threat Called Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire businessman John I. Snyder Jr. says the United States faces great social upheaval if it can't provide jobs for men replaced by machines.

Warning of "really staggering" unemployment, Snyder urged the AFL-CIO yesterday to join with the federal government and the National Assn. of Manufacturers to find a solution.

"I'd join with the devil himself if I could find the solution to this problem," said AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Meany and 1,200 AFL-CIO convention delegates gave Snyder a reception that was warm, although subdued, after a convention floor fight over readmitting the ostracized Teamsters Union.

Meany, with the help of most delegates, wielded a heavy gavel, in killing the move to consider taking back the Teamsters.

Fairfax School Vote Group To Organize

A citizens' committee to work for voter approval of the Fairfax School District's proposed $175,000 bond issue will be organized at a meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at Fairfax Central School.

George Stone of Bolinas Road, unsuccessful candidate for the school board last April, volunteered to lead the committee after discussion of the Jan. 14 bond election at last night's school board meeting. Supt. Homer Sisk said all interested Fairfax residents should attend the committee's organizational meeting.

Sisk reviewed the construction and site acquisition program pending approval of the bond issue. A total $590,935 will be needed, he said, to be made up from existing bond money and state loans in addition to the proposed bonds.

Major cost will be $317,275 for purchase and site improvement of 17 acres on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in western Fairfax for a new elementary school. Three classrooms at the Deer Park School will cost $118,966, Sisk said, and three classrooms and a kindergarten at the Central School will cost $154,694.

Within three years, the number of students in the district will increase from 916 to 1,079, Sisk told the board.

The board unanimously approved a resolution urging passage of the bonds because of the "critical shortage" of classroom space.

San Anselmo School Board Tentatively Sets Election

The San Anselmo School District board last night tentatively set April 14 for another election on a $700,000 bond issue and a $500,000 state loan, that were defeated at the polls last month.

There will be a special board meeting to review the district's educational and building program Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at Isabel Cook School, Supt. Stephen Parodi said.

Funds from the bond issue and state loan would go toward construction of a school in the Sunny Hills area and an addition to Hidden Valley School.

At last night's meeting the board hired Charles Warren Callister and J. Martin Ross as architects for the proposed new school at an eight per cent fee.

The San Anselmo School District Board also:

1. Received a report from Parodi that construction at Wade Thomas School "is slightly behind schedule" because of the rain storms.

2. Received a report from Parodi that enrollment as of Oct. 21 was 2,054, about 40 pupils higher than the same time last year.

3. Heard a report on the volunteer school library program from Rulon Cook, administrative assistant.

4. Adjourned until Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School.

Age Of American Continent Is Older Than We Think

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—The scientific notion that North America is a relative newcomer among the continents is challenged by the latest readings of the tell-tale radioactivity in rocks.

They show our place on this earth is at least 3,200 million years old and no North American needs bow in the matter of the venerability of the homeland either to Europeans or Africans.

The most generally accepted previous estimates of North America's age ranged from 2,400 to 2,700 million years. Meanwhile, European and African rocks have yielded readings of 3,000-plus million years.

This business of counting ages in thousands of millions of years is based upon the "charge" in the atoms of mineral elements. The rate of breakup of this "charge" — the radioactivity — is known.

So are the "daughters" which result, meaning the varying forms of the original atoms. When the original radioactivity is still going on because it has a calculated half-life of many thousands of millions of years and both the original atoms and the "daughters" are confined in rock, you have an index which is readable in a specialized laboratory.

The new estimate of North America's age was impressive because it was made independently in two laboratories, at the University of Toronto and the University of British Columbia. The "Read" rocks came from the Manitouwadge district north of Lake Superior, from the Cobalt-Noranda area on the Ontario-Quebec border and from Greenland.

The rocks contained "suites" of lead. All these collections of lead atoms and their arrays of isotopes yielded the same general indication of when the process began with the formation of the original lead in the molten stew that was the earth before portions of it crusted over into continents.

The scientists were Drs. W. F. Slawson, E. R. Kanasewich, and R. G. Ostic of Vancouver and Prof. R. M. Farquhar of Toronto. They calculated the ratios of "daughter"-making by the original atoms and the derived radioactivities from a baseline of the earth's age being 4,550 million years old.

In their formal report to the technical journal, Nature, they noted that Dr. E. J. Catanzaro had arrived at an age for North American of 3,300-plus years from varying forms of the mineral zircon taken from rocks in southwest Minnesota and Montana.

The oldest previous age attributed to North America, 2,700 million years, was based upon radioactivity in rocks of the Bridger Mountains near Wind River Canyon, Wyo. After their discovery, much older formations were found in Finland and South Africa. This led to the scientific surmise that North America and perhaps Australia were the youngest of the continents.

This surmise assumes the continental crusts were not formed on the molten earth at the same time. The latest readings of the tell-tale radioactivity in rocks supports the opposite assumption. But this is far from being the last word.

The science of taking these readings is new and still is being perfected.

ter's degree in English from that university in 1948.

For seven years he served as a municipal consultant with the University of Washington Bureau of Governmental Research and the Assn. of Washington Cities.

In this work he was engaged in research, Sheeks explained, and in "extensive consultation with city officials on all types of municipal problems." He has written several publications and articles on city government.

Balmer became assistant city manager of Redwood City in 1959. He moved to his Fresno position in 1961.

"We feel most fortunate in obtaining Mr. Balmer," Sheeks said. "One Fresno official stated to us, 'no assistant manager in California is better trained and qualified to move into the ranks of city manager.'"

Balmer will receive $12,500 per year. Almcrants' salary this year is $12,888.

Ohio Town Might Import Irish Nurses

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Smiling Irish eyes may be brought to Portsmouth to help relieve an acute shortage of nurses at General Hospital.

City Manager Franklin T. Gerlach said he has been informed that nurses are available in Ireland and he is looking into the possibility of importing some.

Canine Wigs

MIAMI (AP)—Go Gie, a male French poodle, may think it's a bit degrading, but his owner, Joan Gilmer, says the wig he wears brings her business. Miss Gilmer, a hairstylist, said people curious on seeing a wig-wearing canine, inquire and many have become customers.

2 Brokerage Houses Are Suspended

NEW YORK (AP)—Two large brokerage houses were suspended from trading on the New York and American Stock Exchanges today because of their financial condition.

They are Ira Haupt and Co. and J. R. Williston and Beane Inc.

The suspensions apparently were the latest development in a complex financial transaction in cottonseed oil futures, that is, buying and trading in cottonseed oil for future delivery.

A statement by the New York Stock Exchange said the firms were "in such financial condition that they cannot be permitted to continue in business with safety to their creditors or the exchange."

The suspensions followed a statement late yesterday by the New York Stock Exchange that it was checking the financial position of two member firms.

Shortly before, a New Jersey dealer and refiner of fats and vegetable oils, Allied Crude Vegetable and Refining Co. of Bayonne, filed bankruptcy in U.S. District Court at Newark.

The bankruptcy suit followed sharp decreases in prices of cotton seed oil futures. There were reports that Allied Vegetable was unable to meet commitments because of falling prices.

STORER

istic approach to San Francisco commute problems. Also, sensible development instead of a "land-rush" bonanza.

4. Common-sense means for keeping taxes within reason, and appropriate light industry as one possible source of tax revenue.

Storer, a native of Merced County, was student body president at Merced High School. He attended St. Mary's College and was graduated from University of California. He received his law degree from U.C.'s Hasting College in 1959.

Enlisting in the Marin Corps as a private in 1951, Storer later was commissioned an officer. He served in the Korean conflict and led more than 30 night patrols against Chinese Communist forces.

Following his service in the Marines, Storer attended the Foreign Service School at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C.

Only Capital To Be Captured

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Frankfort was the only state capital of a nonseceding state to be captured by Confederate forces during the Civil War.

The seizure by Gen. Kirby Smith on Sept. 3, 1862, marked the high point of the Southern effort to win Kentucky. The Confederates held the city until Oct. 4.

Union forces began their bombardment just as Richard Hawes was being installed as Confederate governor of Kentucky.

New Kind Of Driver Ticket

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Motorists in suburban Florissant sometimes find the long arm of the law extending theater tickets, instead of traffic tickets.

The theater tickets are part of a new driving courtesy program of the Florissant Police Department. The local junior chamber of commerce developed the idea.

When a policeman stops a well-mannered driver, he issues him two tickets to a local theater. The courtesy citation is canceled by the theater and returned to the driver as a souvenir.

HONOLULU (AP) — The University of Hawaii has introduced a new course for its students. The course is entitled, "How To Study."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today, inspired by American Telephone's proposed 2-for-1 stock split. Trading was heavy.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.5 million shares compared with 4.44 million yesterday.

Benefit Movie About Religious Suppression Is Hit

A benefit movie, "Question 7," about religious suppression behind the iron curtain, was a smash hit at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo last night.

Crowds overflowed the 4:30 and 7 p.m. showings and the 1,180 capacity theater was nearly full for the 9 p.m. showing.

The film was sponsored by the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council. Chairman Mrs. W. E. Vernon of San Rafael said she was still trying to figure the net profit today. The council spent about $600 to put on the show.

Money will be used to buy mimeograph equipment and buy additional movie ratings and reviews for libraries. The Mill Valley and San Rafael libraries have already been stocked with the reviews. The county library has requested them, Mrs. Vernon said.

14-Year-Old Boy Arrested At Hub

A 14-year-old boy was arrested yesterday by San Anselmo police on charges of child molestation and sexual perversion as the result of an incident involving a 5-year-old girl near Isabel Cook School last Thursday.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said the youth admitted the offense and was sent to juvenile hall. He described the boy as a ward of the court from another county, who will be returned to that county.

Mental Patients

NEW YORK (UPI) — The increasing use of tranquilizing drugs is largely responsible for the reduction in the number of mental patients, figures of the National Institute of Health indicate. At the end of 1962, there were 519,948 mental hospital patients, down from 650,000 in 1956, and 2.2 per cent less than in 1961.

Complicated Machine Helps Body

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is now a complicated machine for doing elaborately what the body, when in health, seems to do simply. It controls body temperature precisely, indefinitely and automatically.

To have your temperature controlled by this mechanical marvel you lie between two of its parts, a blanket and a mattress. They're made of continuous square plastic tubing embedded in a plastic foam and are identical.

Each of these systems of tubing has both inlet and outlet. These are connected to a circuitry of pipes around which a fluid is pumped. In the circuit are both a refrigerating unit and a heat exchange. To one side is an independent heating circuit, to be cut in or cut out.

These control the temperature of the fluid. There are short cuts in the circuitry, to be opened or closed, which make it possible to change the temperature of the fluid from very cold to very hot in a jiffy.

Presiding is a miniature computer. A probe is in the person between blanket and mattress through which the fluid is circulating. The probe is hooked up to the computer which makes minute-to-minute calculations of the temperatures of the fluid and of the probe.

It has been set in advance to whatever temperature the doctor wanted, and when the probe signals that temperature has been reached it holds it there to an accuracy of a hundredth of a degree (F) without fuss or bother.

This newest of medical-surgical devices was devolped at Duke University Medical Center, Durham, N.C., and described in a technical publication of the American College of Surgeons by Drs. Robert L. Fuson and C. Ronald Stephen.

"The problem of temperature control in a patient is as old as medicine itself," they said. But now it isn't necessarily the normal body temperature which is desired. For some kinds of surgery a steadily maintained temperature much below normal is wanted, and for a few treatments a higher than normal temperature is helpful.

To reduce temperature for surgery and maintain it at the lower level, ice bags and immersion in ice water have been generally used. These methods permit a "drift" in body temperature which is potentially dangerous, Fuson and Stephen said. "Drift" in their machine is never more than four-tenths of a degree and usually is less.

They've designed tube-filled blankets in varying sizes and shapes. The smallest is intended to wrap around an arm or leg, to cool (or heat) it independently of prevailing body temperature. Another is a head mask shaped something like football helmet which will cool only head and neck.

Or a stomach can be "frozen" and kept that way, (in the treatment of ulcers) while general body temperature is maintained at normal. There are a number of safety devices built into the machine which prevent any damage to tissue either by freezing or burning.

"The apparatus has been employed in more than 200 patients and has proved to be accurate, efficient, and labor-saving, as well as trouble free," the surgeons reported.

OBITUARIES

Musician Ernest M. Carr Dies

Ernest M. Carr of 334 North Almenar Drive, Greenbrae, a musician who lived in Marin for 14 years, died of a heart attack suffered on a sidewalk in San Francisco yesterday while on his way to work. He was 62.

Carr, who played for many years with Bay Area dance bands, was financial secretary for Musicians Union Local 6, San Francisco. He had played the piano and accordion with Art Weidner's and Joe Brigandi's bands and many others.

Prior to his job with the union, he worked in the financial and accounting department of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

He was a native of San Francisco, a graduate of Lowell High School, and attended University of San Francisco.

He had been under doctor's care for about seven years with a heart ailment.

He leaves his wife, Anne, of Greenbrae.

Services will be conducted at Godeau Funeral Home in San Francisco at 2:30 p.m. Friday. Cremation will be at Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

ADELE PODA

Adele May Poda, 79, a resident of San Anselmo for 24 years, died today in a local hospital after a long illness.

She was the wife of Philip L. Poda, a retired furniture finisher, of 46 Woodland Avenue. She was a native of Clyde, Ohio. Mrs. Poda was a member of Tamal Rebekah Lodge 393, San Rafael.

MISSING

newspaper, on television and radio, so if they were around, they should have called home."

Mrs. Brickner disclosed today that, besides guns and camping equipment, the men had with them two dogs: A dachshund belonging to Brickner Sr., who is 53, and a beagle belonging to his son, who is 32.

Mrs. Brickner, who operates a nursing home at the Sweetzer Avenue address, said her son told her before leaving that he planned to take his father on a short camping trip. She expected them to be gone about three days.

She said she had called relatives in Oklahoma on the chance they had gone there, but none of the relatives had any word.

Brickner Jr. had returned to Novato a few days before leaving on the trip, after a six-week residence in Redwood City, where he was manager of Mutual Readers League, Mrs. Brickner said. He is separated from his wife, who lives in San Francisco.

Failed To Yield

MIAMI (AP)—Jerry Defeo, 17, was not hurt but his car was heavily damaged when it was struck by a train. To make matters worse, police charged him with failing to yield right of way.

PATRICK DAILEY

Patrick C. Dailey, 60, president of the Marin County Labor Council and a business agent for the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union 126 in San Rafael for 10 years, died today in a local hospital after a week's hospitalization.

Dailey, of 331 Richardson Way, Mill Valley, had suffered a heart attack last May and had been ailing since then.

He was named council president last Feb. 20. He was a past president of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education for Marin. He was also a former member of the labor council's executive board.

Dailey had been secretary-treasurer of the Marin Visitors Bureau since Jan. 1, and a member of its board of directors since its formation in March of 1962.

Born in New York City, Dailey came to San Rafael 15 years ago and moved to Mill Valley last August.

RUTH NUTE

Ruth Marion Nute, 56, a Marin County resident for 49 years, collapsed and died in her home today.

A native of San Francisco, she was a secretary for the Pacific Telephone Co. in San Rafael. She lived at 43 Center Street, San Rafael, with a friend, Rose Jacka. Miss Nute had been ill for the past two months. Her closest relative was a cousin, J. Warren Nute, San Rafael.

GEORGE GAMMON

Graveside services for George Gammon, 58, a retired cook who died in Sausalito Saturday, will be held at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael, at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Gammon, a resident of Marin for 35 years, had been a cook on ferry boats and in several restaurants in the county. He was a native of Tennessee. There are no known survivors.

NOVATO FREEWAY ROUTE — Map shows latest proposal of State Division of Highways for 101 freeway through Novato. The new proposal is a slight modification of the "J" route selected a year ago after long dispute and many meetings. An interchange at an extension of Rowland Boulevard has been added. The Novato City Council will discuss the route next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Novato To Consider Its Freeway Route

The Novato City Council will consider next Tuesday night the latest freeway route proposal of the California Division of Highways.

Maps of the route were submitted to the city this week. They show a divided highway generally following the "J" route which was selected by the State Highway Commission a year ago after long controversy. The route lies generally east of the railroad, away from the business district.

The new proposal includes an interchange where extension of Rowland Boulevard would intersect the present Highway 101.

The route then curves east, crossing Novato Creek east of the present bridge. It misses Harkle Road and crossed Franklin Avenue and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad at an overpass at the intersection of Alice Street.

Davidson Drive, which is the feeder road to Louis and Fernando Drive, Adrienne Street and Hancock Avenue, would be closed. Access to this area would be provided with an underpass on a proposed new street that would connect with De Long Avenue.

Rose, Orange, Peach, Plum and Cherry Street would all be closed. Overpasses would be provided at Olive and Atherton avenues, with the latter realigned slightly to the north.

The freeway would recross the railroad just north of San Marin Drive and connect with the present highway in the vicinity of Tomahawk.

Peace Corps Is Praised By Nigerian

A radio executive from Nigeria, speaking in Marin last night, praised the Peace Corps as one of the finest developments to be made in the United States foreign aid program.

S. M. Kontagora, broadcasting adviser for the Broadcasting Company of Northern Nigeria, spoke to a group of members of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Marin at the home of J. B. Briscoe in Corte Madera.

Briscoe is deputy director of the World Affairs Council of Northern California, the group helping to sponsor State Department cultural exchange visitors to the United States.

Kontagora said the Peace Corps is valuable to villages in his country because it involved the imparting of knowledge directly to the population.

Bridgeway Inn Might Change Hands

The Bridgeway Inn, long a controversial tavern along Sausalito's main street, may change ownership, the Sausalito City Council learned last night.

The Alcohol Beverage Control Department notified the council that Leo Ralph Maillet has applied for the liquor license now held by Glenn F. Hill, owner of the inn. The only address given for Maillet was 621 Bridgeway, address of the inn.

Mayor Paul Micou said he hopes the ABC board "makes a particular investigation" of the applicant. "This has been an unpopular situation in Sausalito," he said.

Hill faces revocation of the liquor license in a hearing scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday at the Labor Temple, 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Charges of sales to minors, disorderly premises and lewd and indecent acts will be heard by Lloyd H. James, hearing officer for the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board. Three consecutive days have been set aside for the hearing.

Anne Frank Case Figure Suspended

VIENNA (UPI)—Austrian authorities disclosed today that the man who arrested Anne Frank and her family in Amsterdam in August, 1944, has been suspended from his job as a police inspector in Vienna pending an inquiry into his activities under the Nazi regime.

An Interior Ministry spokesman identified the inspector as 52-year-old Karl Silberbauer, a former Nazi Party member who served in the German state police during World War II.

Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, the founder of Boys Town near Omaha, Neb., died in Berlin Germany, on May 15, 1948.

Lagunitas School District Facing Big 5-Year Growth

Trustees of Lagunitas School District last night learned that they face a growth that will more than double school enrollment in five years and necessitate a second school, probably in Woodacre or Forest Knolls.

Supt. Clifford L. Frye told the board that enrollment will hit 962 in five years. There are now 438 pupils in the school.

Under a state formula on site needs, Frye said, this means the district will need at least nine more acres in five years.

A recent county master plan shows future school sites in Woodacre, Forest Knolls and in the hills at the district's eastern boundary near the Fairfax School District.

Trustees called a workshop session at the school at 8 p.m. today to discuss possible sites.

The Lagunitas School District board also:

1. Named a committee to evaluate pupil testing programs. It includes three teachers, Mrs. Maxine Cantrell, Mrs. Muriel Brice and Mrs. Barbara Raadik; parents, Mrs. David Isaac and Mrs. Lora Baker, and Stone and Frye.
2. Learned from Frye, who projected income and expense for the rest of the fiscal year, that the district will have a reserve in June, 1964, of $5,000 to $6,000, about what was budgeted.
3. Called a special session at 8 p.m., Nov. 27, to consider a recommendation on the proposed Tamalpais High School unification plan and to hold a personnel session on Frye's annual contract which will expire Dec. 31.

Bay Swimmer Death Leading To Safety Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Swim clubs and the Coast Guard have agreed on safety steps aimed at preventing a repeat of the Oct. 20 tragedy in which swimmer Jim Small, 27, died after his legs were cut off by the propeller of a fishing boat.

Frank Drum, commissioner of the Dolphin Swim and Boat Club which sponsored the transbay race that day, said yesterday his club has devised fluorescent orange flags to be carried by boats accompanying swimmers. It also will require that whistles be carried to warn off passing boats.

Small died Oct. 23, three days after the tragedy. He and 11 other swimmers in the club left Ondine's Restaurant in Sausalito at 8:15 a.m. Oct. 20, bound for the San Francisco Marina. Two hours later, Small was run over by the 32-foot fishing boat Pacific Dawn. The skipper, Glenn F. Neumann of Oakland said he did not see the swimmer.

Drum also noted that there are fluorescent orange caps for the swimmers but that Jim Small wouldn't wear such a cap because it bothered him.

"If you carry out those steps, swimmers should have good protection," said Rear Adm. Allen Winbeck, commander of the 12th District Coast Guard in a meeting with Drum and Don Kane, commissioner of the Olympic Club. He urged clubs to assign one boat to each swimmer.

Although Winbeck repeated that protection of swimmers is not a federal-required responsibility of the Coast Guard, he did say:

"We usually have two or three patrol boats under way on the bay, especially on weekends. They could be informed of all swimming events taking place, and I'm sure that, conditions permitting, one would attempt to stay in the general vicinity of the race and would be alert for possible trouble."

Drum and Kane suggested formation of a greater San Francisco Bay water safety committee to include all marine groups and the Coast Guard. Winbeck said the Coast Guard would be willing to join it.

Chief Psychological Services Aide Named

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Dr. Herbert Dorken was appointed chief of psychological services for the State Mental Hygiene Department yesterday.

Dorken, 38, has been serving as deputy director of mental hygiene for liaison and prevention since last July. His new position, recently authorized by the State Personnel Board, pays a maximum of $17,880 a year.

Senate Passes Funds For Air Pollution Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a five-year 182-million-dollar authorization bill yesterday designed to accelerate efforts by industry and by federal and state governments to combat air pollution.

The bill was approved by voice vote. The Senate then sent the measure to a Senate-House conference committee where it will be reconciled with the terms of a similar House-passed bill.

In other developments:

ROTC — The House armed services voted to revamp completely ROTC programs at both the college and high school levels. The legislation would authorize a two-year ROTC training course for universities. Students entering, however, would first have to complete a six-to-eight-week accelerated summer training period as privates.

PUBLIC WORKS — The House voted 359 to 27 to approve a 4.2-billion-dollar public works bill. The legislation would provide funds during the fiscal year ending next June 30 for flood control, harbor improvement and reclamation projects.

SPACE—Sen. J. William Fulbright proposed a cut of 519 million dollars — 10 per cent — in the 5.2-billion-dollar appropriation for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Fulbright and other senators claimed that the nation's man-on-the-moon ambitions should give away to the more pressing need for schools and jobs and similar priority items. Opponents to the cut said that the moon program would also give the United States military pre-eminence in space.

Clausen Reports Passage On Measure For Flood Controls

A public works bill including an increase of $200,000 to hasten work on Dry Creek Dam in Sonoma County, was passed yesterday by the House of Representatives, according to Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City).

The bill also involves $355,000 for surveys and flood control work on the Russian River, $15,000 for a flood control study on Richardson Bay streams in Marin County, $24,500 for the harbor project at Jenner, and $225,000 for the Petaluma River ship channel.

The House Appropriations Committee on Friday approved the $200,000 issue for navigation, flood control and water conservation for the 1964 fiscal year. The other issues also were recommended by the committee.

Forgery Charge Plea Changed

John J. Akbery yesterday changed his plea to guilty on a forgery charge, and a burglary count was dropped in Marin County Superior Court. He had been scheduled to start a jury trial yesterday.

Akbery, 25, of Santa Venetia, was accused of forging a $2,500 check belonging to Rowena A. Walter, 287 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, July 3.

Top Vehicles Brass Trade Accusations

Top brass in the State Department of Motor Vehicles yesterday were pointing accusing fingers at others in an attempt to explain why recently fired officials were promoted after accusations against them were known.

Department Director Thomas Bright was quoted as saying he promoted Morris Genser of Los Angeles and Lester Hingsbergen of San Rafael to fill a commitment of his predecessor, Robert I. McCarthy, now a San Francisco attorney.

McCarthy, brother of State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), answered last night that the promotions were made 19 months after he left the post.

"Mr. Bright and former Registrar of Vehicles Albert J. Veglia made the promotions 19 months after my tenure in office. It was their responsibility and they cannot avoid it by claiming a commitment to me that was neither sought nor given," McCarthy said.

McCarthy's name came up during a state personnel board hearing in Sacramento yesterday in which Veglia and William P. Scanland, Veglia's chief investigator, are fighting for reinstatement.

David Fuchs, deputy district attorney in Los Angeles County, said Bright told the Los Angeles Grand Jury April 4 that he promoted Hingsbergen and Genser because of a "commitment" to McCarthy.

Fuchs said Bright "had said Mr. McCarthy has indicated something should be done to elevate and show recognition to Hingsbergen and Genser and he felt obliged to fill the commitment to McCarthy."

This consisted of promoting both men by civil service reclassification to chief assistant jobs. They had previously failed the promotional examinations for the posts.

Both men were later fired by Bright for alleged misuse of influence and profiting by their positions.

Hingsbergen has already appeared before a personnel board hearing in San Francisco, seeking reinstatement, but the ruling is not expected until late in December or early next year.

MANHOLE NO PLACE FOR SLEEPING

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "All I want is a little sleep," said Ralph Harris, 40, when he was discovered in a 25-foot-deep manhole.

A city employee was inspecting a water main when he came across Harris. He called the police.

Harris told officers he had a fight with his wife and "wanted to get away from her for awhile."

He removed the 70-pound cover to get into the manhole, but it had been put back into place by the time the inspector arrived. The employee said it would have been nearly impossible for Harris to get the top off from below and "it might have been another two years before we checked that manhole again."

San Anselmo Orders Two Buildings Repaired

Two old buildings just off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in downtown San Anselmo must be repaired or torn down, the San Anselmo City Council declared last night.

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt told the council that the buildings, a metal shed and wooden barn at the rear of 721 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard have been called hazards by the fire chief and building inspector.

The foundation of one building has almost rotted away. The other structure is about to topple over, Flautt said.

"Sixty per cent of the buildings in San Anselmo are real old, and many of them lean a bit," said Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro. "If we're going to condemn some of them as hazards, we ought to do the same for others."

Flautt said it is best for the city at least to take care of dilapidated buildings that come to its attention.

Landscape architects Watkin and Sibbald complained of the buildings when they began planning for a new office building on property at 6 Bridge Street, adjacent to 721 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The council unanimously agreed to notify owner Marius Cordone, 214 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, that the old buildings must be repaired or demolished within 30 days.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Continued for further study proposed adoption of the revised 1961 Uniform Plumbing Code. Mayor Arthur W. Smith said it should be compared with the existing 1950 code and those in use by other cities.

2. Approved a request of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce for city crews and equipment to put up 10 overhead Christmas garlands and other decorations on city streets. Councilman William Franchini said the city has been "doing this for several years" and should make sure the chamber "gives us credit for it."

3. Approved a 15-minute loading zone in front of Marin Frozen Food Lockers at 224 Greenfield Avenue, on recommendation of Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

4. Denied, on recommendation of Public Works Director Richard Sypher, request of Mrs. Louise Urico for construction of a protective railing on the street past her home at 29 Hillside Avenue. Sypher said a fence is unnecessary for safety of vehicles.

5. Approved installation of three stop signs, already tentatively approved and erected, on San Francisco Boulevard.

6. Tabled a request of College of Marin trustees that the city council endorse a resolution asking Congress for approval of funds for the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

7. Adjourned until next Monday at 8 p.m. instead of the regular Tuesday meeting, because of a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen on Tuesday.

Diabetic Woman's Lost Dog Is Found

The animal, a Collie belonging to Mrs. June Taggart of 23 Hearthstone Court, was found by Mrs. William Henderson of 78 Marina Vista Road in Larkspur. She identified it from an Independent-Journal article reporting the loss yesterday.

Burglary Trial Jury Sent Home

A jury was selected yesterday to open the burglary trial of Joseph Correnti, 36, of Corte Madera, and was then sent home while attorneys argued whether evidence might have been obtained illegally.

Defense attorney Michael Berger claimed there had been a violation of the rules on search and seizure. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. was expected to rule this afternoon. The jury was expected to return to court late this afternoon if he upheld Dist. Atty. Roger Garety.

Correnti is charged with the $15,000 burglary of the homes of Barney Norwitt, 2 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, June 16. He was a former employee of Norwitt's car wash in San Francisco.

Coroner Is Granted Fulltime Secretary

Marin County supervisors late yesterday granted Coroner Frank J. Keaton a fulltime secretary.

The supervisors in their morning session authorized employing Frances Bahl, intermediate typist, halftime for the coroner's office. In the afternoon, however, Keaton appeared before the supervisors and convinced them he needed a fulltime secretary. The board then made Miss Bahl's appointment fulltime, at $360 per month.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr voted "no," saying he did not question Keaton's need for a fulltime secretary but the request should have been submitted "in orderly procedure" through the administrator's office.

Supervisors also authorized hiring another tabulating operator for the data processing division at $508 per month. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell asked for the position, pointing out that more and more departments are using data processing.

For the department of public works, the supervisors appointed Mario T. Balestrieri as equipment superintendent at $634 per month.

Michael Duggan was promoted to senior accountant, from $726 to $760 per month, and Norman J. Taylor from his $795 job as accountant-auditor to senior accountant at $832 per month.

After-School Rec Authorized

The Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission Monday night authorized director Edmund Mahany to proceed with an after-school and Saturday workshop for children in fourth through eighth grades.

It will be held in the community house from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturdays, starting this week, and from 3:30 to 5 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays. Mrs. Virginia Helton will instruct.

Arts and crafts and drama will be included.

On Assault Ship

Gordon D. Irish, Navy machinist's mate fireman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Irish of 128 Belle Ave., San Rafael, is serving aboard the amphibious assault ship Valley Forge, undergoing modernization at the Long Beach Naval Shipyard.

'SAFETY AID'

Lady Godiva On Motor Scooter?

CHINGFORD, England (UPI)—A modern Lady Godiva — a nude girl riding a motor scooter—has started a storm here.

The nude, wearing only a crash helmet, has been suggested as a poster for a council road safety campaign aimed at young people. It carries the slogan:

Road safety officers are for it but the town's clergymen are against it.

"Disgusting," said Rev. Harold Goldsack, a Methodist. "The slogan seems to suggest that they can do what they like provided they wear a crash helmet."

But Charles Henderson, the town's chief road safety officer, said "Let's face it—we are living in the age of the nude. If the body beautiful will help to save lives, why shouldn't we do this in road safety?"

Three Drunken Drivers Fined

Two men and a woman were fined yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving, after they pleaded guilty.

John Anthony Frommelt, 32, of Napa, paid $166. He was arrested Aug. 31 by the sheriff's office on Highway 101 at Richardson Bay Bridge. Roy Talbot Hill, 48, of Stinson Beach, was fined $110. He was arrested by the sheriff's office Nov. 16 on Highway 1 near his home.

Esther Evelyn Wentworth, 46, of 310 Norton Avenue, Black Point, was not present in court, but her attorney agreed she would pay $88. She was arrested Oct. 24 by Novato police at Machin and De Long avenues, Novato.

No College Trustee Action On Proposal

The Marin Junior College District board Thursday night received but did not act on proposals to provide more funds for junior colleges by increasing sales or horse racing taxes.

The proposed hikes were suggested in a written report from the county schools office. It was not a resolution approved by the board as reported incorrectly in Friday's Independent-Journal.

Policemen Promoted— No Exams

San Rafael City Council Action Against Own Rule

The San Rafael City Council, which has insisted that no police promotions be given without examination, has itself promoted an officer to sergeant who never took the exam.

The council Monday night voted to give the rating of sergeant to the police department's two inspectors, Richard Camper and Thomas C. Cheetham.

Camper and Cheetham already were receiving the pay of sergeants. However, councilmen noted they were precluded from taking promotional examinations for lieutenant —whenever such are offered— unless given sergeant rating.

However, Camper and Cheetham were made inspectors without examination a few months ago. Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa insisted at that time that the two men had been doing inspectors' work and were the only two men in the department qualified for the jobs.

Camper and Cheetham already were receiving the pay and passed highest on the list. Cheetham, however, has never taken the sergeant exam.

Apprised today that the council had in effect flown in the face of its own edict, Mayor John F. McInnis responded: "I just don't know how to explain it. I think we all just assumed both men had passed the examination."

Phone Company To Split Stock

NEW YORK (UPI)—Directors of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. today voted a 2-for-1 stock split for next June and to increase the quarterly dividend to $1 next April.

The company said it hoped the dividend increase and stock split would make the stock more attractive to individual investors, widen the market for the stock, and facilitate the raising of the large amounts of new capital required for its construction program.

The company is planning its largest construction program ever for 1964—3.25 billion dollars to expand the telephone system.

Las Vegas Sun Hit By Blaze

LAS VEGAS (AP) — The Las Vegas Sun, one of the city's two daily newspapers, was almost totally destroyed by fire early today, the Fire Department reported.

Officials said the blaze followed an apparent explosion in the paper's air conditioning system about 5 a.m. A full staff of printers was in the composing room following printing of the final edition.

Sun spokesmen said the paper was insured.

Engineers Find Slide In Own Back Yards

Two San Rafael engineers, always concerned with other people's slides, awoke yesterday to find a 30-by-60-foot earth slide in their back yards.

"We can't get excited because we have to repair other people's slides," said Stanley M. Bala, Mill Valley city engineer who lives at 772 Tamarack Drive. He said his neighbor, Jack R. Collingwood, engineer for Standard Oil Co., is also affected. "Our wives are excited," said Bala.

Fuss Over Auditing Is 'Inconsequential'

Criticisms in the annual audit of Mill Valley's city books, which have been alluded to frequently in the dispute over firing of City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants, referred to nothing but "inconsequential bookkeeping procedures," the Mill Valley Citizens for Good Government declared today.

The citizen group, which is committed to support of Almcrants, reported on what its co-chairman Robert R. Laughead said was a "complete analysis of the 1962-63 city audit."

Auditor Frederic D. Kerr commented mainly on administrative procedures which are "relatively minor and certainly do not warrant the dismissal of any of the personnel in Mill Valley for negligence or other gross acts of incompetency," said a statement by Laughead in behalf of the committee.

One point that cannot be overemphasized, said Laughead, is that "no accusation is made that funds were spent unnecessarily or that expenses were too high."

The audit showed that of 320 accounts in the city's general purpose fund, 130 had exceeded budgets in expenditures. Total spending by the city, however, was $73,280 less than budgeted.

The Good Government group statement called purchasing procedure set up by the city council "cumbersome" and "highly inefficient."

San Marin, Pinheiro Plans Hearings Set

The Novato City Council, at a special meeting yesterday, set for Dec. 3 and 10 public hearings on the San Marin-Pinheiro master plans.

The Novato Planning Commission approved the two master plans Monday night. The council acted to set the two public hearings in time so the 2,200-acre San Marin and 165-acre Pinheiro properties can be annexed to the city by Jan. 1.

The council also approved subdivision into two parcels of the nine-acre Rayan property on McClay Road.

The council will meet at 7 p.m. next Monday to discuss the final swimming pool plans.

Destroyer Duty

Leon S. Sankey, Navy technician seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sankey of 304 D Street, San Rafael, is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer Hoel, now with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Supervisors Worried Over Welfare Load

A state inclination to slough off welfare and other burdens on counties without granting equivalent funds to carry the load caused Marin County supervisors yesterday to:

1. Seek conferences with Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley (both R-San Rafael).

2. Ask Administrator Alan Bruce and Welfare Director Betty L. Presley to draft a letter intended to circulate their views among supervisors of other counties.

Discussion of a three-page letter from Miss Presley giving what she called "hand-writing on the wall information" caused the board to worry over extra outlays evidently to be expected from county property owners.

"We like the goal but we don't like the additional costs for the county" commented Supervisor Peter Behr on the trend toward local care of the mentally ill or retarded, in place of the traditional institutions.

Supervisor Bryon W. Leydecker said he was concerned about further tax load on property and "I'm more inclined to income than property tax, on the ground of ability to pay." Chairman William D. Fusselman concurred but pointed out legal and political curbs on what counties can do.

The letter said that under new trends in the "Aid to Families With Dependent Children" program, not only the father, but either parent, may be termed "an unemployed parent" and provide a situation of "deprivation" warranting welfare relief.

Miss Presley also called attention to federal requirements for extension of child welfare services by 1975. She said Marin County is well along except for lack of an adoption service.

San Anselmo Votes To Keep Dog Ordinance

Dogs in San Anselmo have a square deal under city law, and the San Anselmo City Council sees no reason to adopt the proposed uniform county animal control ordinance.

"We have a much better, more restrictive and more thorough ordinance of our own," City Administrator Douglas Flautt told the council last night.

For one thing, he said, the proposed ordinance would raise the dog license fees from $3 to $4. County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht also pointed out in a letter to the council that a proposed schedule of quarantine fees would "obstruct rabies control" since dog owners, "knowing they will have to pay a fee will try to hide the fact their animals have bitten someone."

The existing San Anselmo animal control law, adopted 10 years ago, has no such flaws, Flautt said.

The council agreed with Flautt it would be best to let well enough alone and tabled the proposed ordinance indefinitely.

Sixty-six per cent of all people living today have been assisted under the U. S. foreign aid program since the end of World War II.

Terra Linda, County Rec Meeting Slated

Marin County Parks and Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson will meet with directors of the Terra Linda Recreation-Parks District tonight at 8 o'clock in the Terra Linda Community Center.

How the district and county can help each other in recreation programs will be the subject of Nelson's discussion at the special district board meeting, said Richard T. Conzelmann, district recreation director.

Richardson Bay Study Postponed

The oft-postponed engineering study of Richardson Bay bulkhead line was postponed again yesterday.

The $25,000 price tag quoted by the firm of Earl and Wright in San Francisco was a little too steep. Marin County supervisors quickly rejected the offer and asked Public Works Director Donald R. Frost to look around for something less expensive and less elaborate.

Thus far, two engineers have disagreed on whether dredged material can be deposited on banks or must be carted away. The county had hoped that a third engineering firm could break the deadlock.

OUTSIDE HELP

Attorney Hugh Allen, who described himself as a sort of "mediator" between the property owners and the county, suggested Frost make the survey, with some outside consultation.

"Our department could do it," said Frost. "But it will take 90 to 120 days to do it."

"Would the supervisors be responsive to Don Frost's doing the study with outside help, and property owners' paying for the outside help?" asked Allen.

"At first we thought the property owners were going to pay, but now we have the county doing the work. Is that fair?" asked supervisor William A. Gnoss.

'SOUND POINT'

"I believe Mr. Gnoss has a fairly sound point there," commented supervisor Peter H. Behr. He held the burden should be on the property owners to prove pier and bulkhead lines established earlier are in error.

The supervisors decided to have Frost sound out other engineering firms to see if the study can be done at less cost and report back with figures and a suggested sharing of the cost.

Women Shoplift In Sausalito

Three women, one with a ponytail hair-do, shoplifted a set of man's cuff links and a black turtle neck sweater yesterday from the Top Drawer, 791 Bridgeway, Sausalito, police were told.

Clerk Elizabeth Grace telephoned police at 11:36 a.m. saying at about 11:22 the women handled merchandise in the front window, made no purchase, and were seen to drive away in two Cadillacs. Salesman William Mills then discovered the cuff links, valued at $30, and sweater, valued at $16, had disappeared.

Aviation Fire Control

Michael J. Hunterman, Navy airman, son of Mrs. Colleen Hunterman of 385 Via Casitas, San Rafael, has been graduated from the Aviation Fire Control Technician School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tenn.

SAUSALITO ADOPTS DOG CONTROL LAW

County Ordinance To Raise License To $4; Residents Assert 'Job Is Only Half Done'

The Sausalito City Council adopted the proposed county-wide dog control ordinance last night, raising the annual dog license fee from $3 to $4.

Marin County, Mill Valley and San Rafael previously adopted the ordinance, but San Rafael did not raise its $3 fee.

Fourteen residents wrote to the council saying the ordinance "is a job half done" and recommending stronger restrictions. They suggested that dogs be on leash when away from owner's premises and "curb your dog" laws be enforced.

Mayor Paul Micou said the ordinance covers many of the recommendations made by the residents, but is not a leash law.

The ordinance provides that dogs must be under control, but not necessarily restricted by leash or chain.

"I think we can live with it and any dog can live with it," said Councilman Michael Harris.

The ordinance is designed to keep dogs from running at large, especially in public areas such as playgrounds, beaches or parks.

In the matter of curbing errant merchants who bilk tourists, the council passed the problem back to the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce.

The city had intended to join the Better Business Bureau of San Francisco at a cost of $60 so the bureau could handle customer complaints.

Micou told the council the bureau prefers not to be under the control of any government agency, and the council agreed that the chamber of commerce should join.

Initially, the city decided to join after the chamber said it did not have the necessary $60.

"They (the chamber) spend more than $60 on postage and a booklet telling each other how good they are," said Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Agreed there should be closer communication between the council and the library board after City Mgr. Charles A. Brown reported that an assistant librarian is being paid more than the salary listed in the annual appropriation.
2. Received a request from the Sausalito School District to make a portion of the road from Bridgeway to the Ebbtide Apartments one-way for traffic. The request was referred to the police department for study.
3. Granted Victor diSuvero a variance to convert a lower floor at 22 Currey Avenue to an apartment, overruling the planning commission.
4. Granted Charles and Edna Kelly a variance to repair and enlarge a house at 89 Monte Mar Drive.
5. Granted T. H. Borla a variance to rebuild a duplex at Alexander Avenue and South Street that was damagd by fire. The property is zoned for a single family dwelling.
6. Granted Mrs. E. A. Souza a variance to convert a lower floor to an apartment at 77 Girard Avenue.
7. Denied a use permit and variance extension for a professional building at Bridgeway and Princess Street, sought by Charles Mead, by 4-to-1 vote, Councilman Michael Harris dissenting.
8. Granted the Sausalito Yacht Harbor Corp. permission to place 10 feet of additional fill at the southeast corner of Humboldt and Johnson streets.

Court Reverses Death Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —The State Supreme Court yesterday reversed the first degree of murder conviction and death sentence of Milpitas freight handler Ronald K. Henderson.

By a 5-2 decision, the court ordered a new trial for Henderson and said he cannot again be sentenced to death for the crime.

Henderson, 29, pleaded guilty to strangling Joyce Lovett, 28, in a Pinole Hotel two years ago in his first trial in Contra Costa County Superior Court.

Meeting Postponed

The Belvedere Recreation Commission did not meet last night because two commissioners were out of town. No date has been set for a postponed meeting, according to Mrs. Howard Allen, commissioner.

Hearings On Goerndt Are Termed 'Circus'

Sausalito's hearing on the firing of Police Chief Howard Goerndt are a "circus" as far as one resident is concerned.

In letters to Mayor Paul Micou and the Sausalito City Council, H. C. Nieman of 234 Woodward Avenue asked the council "to be done with all this tomfoolery."

Nieman's letters may express the views of many residents, said Mayor Micou, but the council, guided by the civil service ordinance, does not have jurisdiction over the hearings. They are being conducted by the board of review.

"I think the circus going on is ridiculous," wrote Nieman. "I would like to know who is running the City of Sausalito, the elected representatives of the people or the incompetent police chief and his attorney. I cannot understand why the elected body cannot assert its authority, clean up the police department, and go about the work it was elected to do."

In his letter to the council Nieman urged councilmen "to back up a good city manager." Goerndt was fired by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and the hearings resulted.

Nieman also referred to Harry S. Wainwright, an attorney for Goerndt at the hearings. "I do not remember voting for Harry Wainwright for mayor or councilman," he wrote.

Lack Of Quorum

The College of Marin student executive council failed to get a quorum for its meeting yesterday afternoon. Council actions were continued to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at Harlan Hall.

Novato Would Like To Sell Bikes But Has No Ordinance

The City of Novato would like to offer a Christmas bargain in bicycles, but maybe it lacks the legal power to do so.

Novato police have on hand 25 unclaimed bicycles. Acting Police Chief Robert Di Grazia proposed these be sold at auction on Dec. 7—in time for the Christmas trade.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget discovered, however, that Novato has no ordinance authorizing the city to sell surplus property. He asked City Atty. Clark M. Palmer to prepare one.

Palmer did so, and the ordinance was introduced at a special city council meeting yesterday. Final passage was scheduled for next week.

However, unless an ordinance contains a clause saying that an urgent need exists for its immediate application, it does not become law until 30 days after passage—which would be after Christmas. Palmer, unaware the bike sale was tied to the ordinance, included no urgency clause.

Satire At College

An added feature, the first public appearance of the College of Marin student produced satire film, "Last Year at Marin—Bad," will be shown at 8 p.m. Saturday in Olney Hall along with "Sunset Boulevard," Byron Trott, publicity chairman of the sponsoring art club, announced.

Lucas Valley Group Meets County Heads

About 20 leaders from Lucas Valley, Marinwood and Terra Linda met county department heads last night at the Civic Center, in the second of a series of "get-acquainted" meetings set up by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

Leydecker introduced County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht, Sanitation Director William L. Desmond, Farm Advisor Winston Engvall, Deputy Agricultural Commissioner R. Allan Ballard, and entomologist Harry Mathis of the Marin Mosquito Abatement District.

Officials of the community services districts, recreation districts and homeowners groups then asked questions on the functions of the county departments.

The third and final meeting is set for Dec. 3, when county fire department officials, county counsel, and county administrator will meet the Lucas Valley-Marinwood-Terra Linda group.

Burned-Out Family's Needs Are Filled

A spokesman for the Marin County Chapter of American Red Cross said today the needs of a family burned out of their home recently have all been filled by generous donations.

The family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee and their four children, lost their Inverness Park home and belongings and have since been residing on property owned by Lee's employer, Waldo Giacomini of Point Reyes Station. Red Cross workers said a rental house is now being arranged for the family, however.

San Anselman Found In Auto With Hose

Patrick John Finnegan, 50, of 45 Suffield Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in good condition today in Ross Hospital after Fairfax firemen pulled him from his parked car in Oak Manor and applied a resuscitator after an apparent asphyxiation suicide attempt.

Roger Bare, of 101 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, spotted Finnegan's car on Julie Ann Crest, and noticed a garden hose stretched from the exhaust through a car window. The front windows were covered by rags. Bare called Fairfax police.

Out-Of-Work Exec's Car Found On Span

A 51-year-old executive, recently in California to look for a new job, is believed to have jumped to his death from the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge last night.

There has been only one previous known suicide from the bridge.

Joseph Pessah of Oakland left a note in his car addressed to his wife, Rita. "Forgive me for what I am doing," it said. It described his failure to find work.

The car was spotted on the second level of the bridge at 6:55 p.m. by motorists who said the driver got out and left the car.

Highway Patrolman Angelo Corvino said the car was registered to Pessah. In it was $40 in currency, the note and a letter from a Maryland corporation, regretting that Pessah had left the company to move to California.

The Coast Guard searched but failed to find the body.

Pessah's wife said her husband had three job application appointments yesterday. He did not telephone her all day.

In 1920, France buried an unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. A perpetual flame was lighted over the tomb.

Marin County Backs Smog Device Ruling For All Cars

Marin County yesterday gave official backing to a Bay Area program to install smog control devices on all cars.

County supervisors voted to draw up a resolution or ordinance requiring each motorist to sign an affidavit that he has a crankcase device on his car.

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, with the help of the highway patrol, will put the program into operation. Requiring an affidavit will make it simpler to enforce, said D. J. Callaghan, chief administrative officer of the air pollution control district.

Callaghan explained the devices will be required on 1950 through 1961 models. Most cars made in 1962 and since are already equipped with the device.

From Jan. 1, installation of crankcase devices will start on all commercial vehicles and those that change ownership. By 1965, all used cars, 1950 to 1961 models, will have to have the devices, said Callaghan.

The devices cost between $15 and $18. A sticker will be placed on the right hand side of the windshield for cars equipped with the installation, said Callaghan.

Everyone will not be rushing for the devices at one time because installation will be scheduled according to license numbers, Callaghan explained. The last number on the license plate will determine which month the installation should be made. For example, a car with the license number 456 will have the installation made in June because the last number is 6.

Supervisor George H. Ludy called the law "pretty discriminatory." Cars made before 1950, those that run on diesel, and foreign made cars on which the device is not adaptable are exempt, Ludy pointed out. "I don't think that's right."

Callaghan said newer foreign cars are cooperating by making plans for smog control devices, and work is being done to devise an installation for diesel powered vehicles.

Ludy went along with his colleagues in calling for the affidavit by motorists.

Dairies have insisted that the Amish, who spurn the use of electricity, must wire their barns and dairy facilities to comply with local health regulations.

Junior College District Passes

ALAMEDA (AP)—Creation of Alameda County's second junior college district was approved yesterday by voters in six of the county's cities. They also elected seven trustees to run the district.

There were 31,777 votes favoring the district and 9,538 in opposition after all 258 precincts reported.

The new district will absorb Oakland City College and its two campuses and establish four new campuses in the district.

The new district and the Oakland School Board will negotiate for the two Oakland City College campuses.

Four other proposed campuses would involve a long-range plan and possibly a bond issue of as much as 20 million dollars.

GERONIMO SMALL BUSINESS URGED

Supervisors Send Back Rezoning Proposals With Instructions To Show Commercial Areas

Commercial areas for small businesses in San Geronimo Valley should be increased, not cut down, the county board of supervisors decided yesterday.

With that in mind, the supervisors tossed San Geronimo Valley rezoning plan back to the planning department, with instructions to have the businessmen themselves outline the commercial areas they want. The rezoning plan will be taken up again Dec. 3.

By then, attorney Roderick P. Martinelli representing the valley's business interests, said he would have overlay maps showing where his clients want commercial areas.

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs and his staff had proposed that commercial areas be cut down slightly, and the rest be zoned for residential, with lots ranging from 10,000 square feet to two acres.

Supervisors had no objection to the proposed residential zoning plan, but saw no need to cut down the commercial idea that a shopping center might soon go into the valley.

"I don't think a major shopping center will materialize in San Geronimo Valley for 25 years," declared Supervisor George H. Ludy.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William A. Gnoss, also longtime residents of the county, agreed that small antique and hobby shops and other specialty shops have their place in San Geronimo Valley and should be allowed to continue as long as they want.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Approved rezoning of Los Ranchitos from the present 10,000 square foot lots to one-acre minimum lots. No one appeared before the board to oppose the rezoning.
2. Agreed to make copies of tax rolls of the Stinson Beach areas for Stinson Beach Realty. The auditor said the copies can be made for $75 by the data processing division. The realty firm will pay the cost.
3. Accepted Bank of California's low bid of 3.3939 per cent for $430,000 in bonds of Dixie School District.
4. Agreed to pay $60 in back taxi fare for a nurse in the county medical director's office, who had to make trips to Marin Juvenile Hall on Saturday mornings, since the Marin County Hospital and Farm closed. The nurse had no car and could not drive. The problem no longer exists because this particular nurse has quit the Saturday visits, and another nurse will be sent.
5. Received a letter from M. Priscilla West, a county social worker, asking that a poll be taken to see whether county employees want a change from the present program of California Physicians Service group insurance. Supervisors referred the matter to Stanley J. Fontez, chairman of the medical plan advisory committee.

Rockefeller Names Campaign Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller today named John A. Wells, 55, New York City lawyer, as national director of his presidential campaign.

Wells, long active on the state political level, managed the re-election campaign of Sen. Jacob K. Javits last year.

Accountant Shot Over $6,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 54-year-old church accountant was shot to death yesterday in the Tenderloin District in duel over $6,000.

The victim, Joseph James Cheswick, had just withdrawn the money from the bank and was on his way to the Glide Methodist Church when he was stopped by the gunman.

Cheswick was seen grappling with a stocky man wearing glasses and a gray overcoat in an alley. A witness said the gunman ran out of the alley with Cheswick in pursuit.

He caught the man's arm with his umbrella handle. The man turned on Cheswick, fired once, and escaped in a cab.

Drake High Library Adds 1,032 Books

The Sir Francis Drake High School Library has been increased by 1,032 books since the opening of school in September. The new books are chiefly non-fiction.

Ninety feet of new shelving has been installed to contain the library's 8,500 books.

Booking Room Fire

About $250 worth of damage was done today by a smoldering fire caused by faulty wiring in the wall and ceiling of the booking room at the Marin County Sheriff's Office. Smoke was first noticed about 8:10 a.m. San Rafael firemen hacked a hole in the wall to reach the wires.

DONOVAN'S VIEW

'Castro Can Be Bargained With'

Combined Services

SAN FRANCISCO—A negotiator who says you can bargain successfully with Fidel Castro if you have patience and optimism addresses the 16th annual national conference of the Public Relations Society of America today.

He is New York attorney James B. Donovan who won release of the Cuban prisoners of war. He is the main speaker at the conference luncheon.

"I am a very optimistic man," Donovan said at a news conference. He said things looked dubious during the missile crisis "but after that had been solved, the talks with the Cubans went along very well."

Donovan said Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba "is a very volatile person. Once he was convinced we were bargaining in good faith, he treated me very well."

A psychology professor told the public relations men yesterday that too often they are savages who "prance around in a war dance, go through various religious rites, feast, then smear poison on their spears and go out and kill their enemies."

Dr. David Krech of the University of California said the savage has no idea why his poison kills and the advertising man has no more understanding of why his activities hit the target.

There is great need for more self education among corporations and public relations people to help prevent abuses in financial public relations, another speaker said.

This is the only real solution to the problems pointed up by the recent SEC staff study of the securities markets, O. Glenn Saxon Jr., consultant to the General Electric Co. for professional investor relations, said yesterday.

Many educational activities already are being carried out, Saxon said, as various organizations and associations such as the PRSA and the American Management Assn. have conducted courses and seminars for some years. What is now needed is stepped up efforts of this nature. He praised the high ethical standards being developed in these educational activities.

Public relations men were also told, that there are very few if any principles from sociology and psychology which can be applied universally to the job of communicating with people.

They heard these statements in a panel session on "The Public Opinion Process," moderated by Dr. Rex F. Harlow, publisher of the Social Science Reporter, Menlo Park.

Another speaker in the session, Dr. Sanford M. Dornbusch, a Stanford University sociologist, said:

"Many people decry the loss of individual freedom in having to work in a bureaucratic world. As social scientists, we neither cry nor laugh, but try to describe reality."

The reality of which he spoke was his opinion that public opinion polling of a naive sort ignores this collective aspect of public opinion.

"To add together the views of the stupid and the bright, of the informed and the ignorant, of the concerned and the apathetic, and most important, of the powerful and the led, is to distort the nature of the democratic process within the United States.

"The consumer of poll results should be aware of the extent to which he is satisfying his curiosity as to the views of the unwashed and is not studying a decision making process."

Fairfax Merchants Meeting Dec. 5

The Fairfax Merchants Assn. will not hold its next meeting until Dec. 5 at 8 p.m., George Pagni, association president, reported today.

There will be no meeting tomorrow because Pagni will be attending a meeting of the Fairfax Planning Commission, of which he is a member.

The association will meet at the Crocker-Citizens Bank in Fairfax.

Mechanical Lincoln Is Controversy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — A controversy boiled today over whether a life-like Abraham Lincoln figure that sits, stands, talks and gestures is dignified and characteristic or "grotesque."

Walt Disney came to the land of Lincoln yesterday to talk about the project, which will be the heart of the 1-million-dollar Illinois exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

"He is going to speak to you," Disney said. "His voice is as close as we could get from actual descriptions of this great man. He will appear in a very dignified setting.

"While seated in a chair before speaking he will drop his head in thought, a characteristic Lincoln action," Disney said. "When he is introduced he will stand—putting his hands behind his back—as though deep in thought."

Disney said the Lincoln presentation would appear to audiences "as life-like as I am standing before you—perhaps more so."

A RIDICULOUS IDEA

Virginia Rips Zip Code For Santa

CHATHAM, N.Y. (UPI)—"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," but this year he may not answer your Christmas letter—unless you know his Zip code number.

Zip code for Santa Claus?

"What a ridiculous idea!" said Mrs. Virginia Douglas, the 74-year-old grandmother who was the original Santa Claus girl.

Mrs. Douglas was 8-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon when she wrote New York Sun editor Francis Church in 1897: "Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Please tell me the truth."

Church in his famous Christmas editorial replied: "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist. How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus."

Mrs. Douglas said today she was shocked that the Post Office Department could demand not one, but TWO Zip code numbers on letters written to Santa Claus at the North Pole.

The letter writer not only has to know Santa's number but also his own—which may be even more difficult to remember.

The general New York City Post Office announced recently that children writing to Santa must know the Zip code for the North Pole—99701—and their own neighborhood Zip codes in order to receive an answer.

"The North Pole has been found for generations without a Zip code," Mrs. Douglas said. "Mr. Church wouldn't approve of such a thing."

"I realize they (the post office) have a difficult job, but some things should be beyond impersonal automation," said the retired New York City public school teacher.

Mrs. Douglas now lives in this Columbia County village with her daughter who has seven children.

A spokesman for New York Postmaster Robert K. Christenberry explained that the requirement for Zip codes on letters to Santa was part of an educational campaign to get the public to make more general use of the five digit codes. The spokesman said the same sort of thing was going on all over the country.

Sausalito Safety Firm Is Awarded Presidential 'E'

E. D. Bullard Co. of Sausalito, manufacturers and distributors of industrial safety equipment, has been awarded President John F. Kennedy's "E" flag for helping to expand exports.

A citation signed by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges commended the company for its special marketing approach which "aided in making an outstanding contribution to the export expansion drive of the United States."

During World War II, the company won the predecessor award, the Army-Navy "E" four times for its excellence in wartime production.

Oakland Pastor Dies Of Gunshot Wounds

BERKELEY (UPI) — Rev. Vivian M. Bailey, pastor of Oakland's Seventh Avenue Baptist Church, died Monday at Herrick a local hospital from the bullet wound suffered last month when he was shot by an irate deacon of his congregation.

Police said his admitted assailant, Leroy Jones, 61, of Oakland, was rearrested on a murder charge. Jones had been free on bail since his arrest Oct. 15 on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Stanford Drinking Team Vs. Big 10 In Rose Bowl?

By CHARLES MAHER

PASADENA (AP)—A number of people (two) have written in to inquire which team is likely to represent the Big Six conference in the Rose Bowl.

Right now, about the only safe thing to say is that people like this ought to mind their own business. There's more to do around here than answer a lot of blame fool questions from troublemakers who should be home like everybody else, beating their wives.

But, if you insist on becoming offensively inquisitive, the fact is that at the moment the Washington Huskies have the best chance of being sent to Pasadena. But, if the Huskies lose to Washington State Saturday, conference faculty representatives may just throw up their hands and send apologies instead.

Looking at the over-all performances of Big Six teams this year, you get the idea you could find better records in the guest register at Leavenworth. Big Six members have a combined record of 22 victories, 30 losses and one tie. The tie was a gift from G. Mennen Williams. Some of the losses shouldn't really count because Big Six teams had to play without their best men, who had graduated 10 years earlier.

Anyway, it might be profitable to explore the turmoil that would develop should Washington lose to Washington State, should UCLA defeat Southern California and, most importantly, should Idaho lose to Connecticut, which it isn't even playing.

Unless there has been a grievous blunder in calculation, this would leave Gonzaga University in first place, only percentage points ahead of the Chouinard Art Institute. Mills College would be third, the highest a girls' school has ever finished in a non-war year.

Actually, to get a little less serious for a moment, UCLA would be the conference champion. But, since the conference is not obligated to send its champion to the Rose Bowl, the Bruins might be by-passed.

UCLA's over-all record, in the unlikely event it should beat USC, would be 3-7. Clearly, it would be a crime to risk effacing a record like that by becoming involved in a trifling post-season exhibition when the Bruins could quit so easily while they were behind.

Washington State, should it defeat Washington, would have a perfect conference record. But Washington State would not be eligible to go to the Rose Bowl, having (1) failed to qualify under the Wagner-Murray-Dingle act and (2) having played only two Big Six teams—one less than the Pittsburgh Panthers.

Pittsburgh defeated all three of its Big Six opponents but is geographically eliminated from Rose Bowl consideration because its campus is two miles outside the Los Angeles City limits.

Big Six faculty advisers will get together over a cup of hemlock Nov. 25 to name the Western representative. What they might do is spread sawdust on the floor of the Rose Bowl and send the Stanford drinking team. That should handle anything the Big 10 has to offer.

BIG GAMES ON COAST

Stanford's Star: I Can Take Pain

STANFORD—Halfback Steve Thurlow, mainstay of the Stanford backfield, has returned to action sooner than expected.

Thurlow was taken from the stadium by ambulance last Saturday after suffering a deep charley horse in his right thigh. Now he's a listed starter for Saturday's Big Game against California.

"I'm not saying he'll be at his best," said Stanford trainer Connie Jarvis. "The tissue isn't 100 per cent repaired and he'll get tired quicker than usual. But he'll be able to go—and start."

Thurlow said he has good movement in his right leg and could drive off it.

LINEUP CHANGE

BERKELEY — Sophomore tackle Stan Dzura has been moved to the second unit of the California football team for the Big Game Saturday against Stanford.

Dzura, who transferred to Cal from Hartnell Junior College, now plays behind team captain Jim Anderson, who's been pronounced fit and ready for the Indians after suffering a knee injury.

NO ADMITTANCE

PULLMAN, Wash. — The Washington State University football team hung up the "no admittance" sign on the fieldhouse yesterday and held a secret hour-long session.

The Cougars hope to knock Washington out of the Rose Bowl race in a Big Six battle Saturday.

HUSKY SHAKEUP

SEATTLE—It appeared today that Washington Coach Jim Owens was not kidding when he shuffled starting backs Junior Coffey, Dave Kopay, and Ron Medved to the second string.

The first string quartet that worked out yesterday for the Huskies included Bill Douglas at quarterback, Dick Wetterauer and Steve Bramwell at halfbacks, and Charlie Browning in Coffey's fullback slot.

Guard Rick Redmond, bounced down to the fourth string, moved back up to the second string as the Huskies drilled on offense last night.

BEATHARD RETURNS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Quarterback Pete Beathard was at the helm again today as the University of Southern California worked on its passing in preparation for Saturday's meeting with UCLA.

Beathard, who was injured recently, seemed to be back in top form as he went through a lengthy passing drill yesterday, throwing to his ends and halfbacks.

SHARPEN DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES—The UCLA Bruins again worked to sharpen their defense today as they prepared to meet Southern California Saturday in the Coliseum.

Marin Turkey Bowl Slated

Final plans for a Thanksgiving Day "Marin Turkey Bowl" football game between the Redwood Junior Giants of the Marin Pop Warner Conference and a championship team from San Diego were announced yesterday.

Redwood, undefeated champion of the local league, will play the Golden Irish of San Diego in the feature game at College of Marin Stadium, Kentfield, at 11 a.m. a week from tomorrow, announced Ralph Peters Jr., spokesman for the sponsoring Marin Boys Club. The "Turkey Bowl," he said, has the sanction of the National Pop Warner Football Conference.

A preliminary game at 9:30 Thanksgiving morning will match the Terra Linda Junior Trojans, runners-up in the Marin League, against the Rohnert Park-Cotati championship team from Sonoma County.

Admission to the Turkey Bowl will be a $1 donation by adults at the gate. No advance sale is planned, Peters said.

This will mark the first Pop Warner "bowl" game in Marin. In previous years Marin champions travelled outside the state to participate in post-season contests.

Pop Warner football is for boys aged 14 years and younger who weigh no more than 123 pounds. The San Diego players, Peters said, are slightly older, but are in the same weight bracket as the Redwood players.

How Warrior's Broke Slump

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Coach Alex Hannum today credited a "players only" meeting with pulling his San Francisco Warriors out of a slump.

"After the guys had lost five out of six, they called a team meeting on their own and decided they just were better than that," Hannum said last night following a 129-96 victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

"Instead of listening to me, they talked among themselves for a change and it seems to have paid off."

The Warriors next face the Los Angeles Lakers at the Cow Palace Friday and Hannum today planned to hold practice so as not to lose any momentum.

Following Sunday's easy win over Detroit, the Warriors plastered the Hawks last night to cut St. Louis' Western Division lead over Los Angeles to half a game.

Everything about the Warriors looked good except the attendance which totaled 1,579 in the Cow Palace.

San Francisco did most of its damage during a searing first quarter while hitting 66 per cent of its floor shots.

Wilt Chamberlain was high for the night with 40 points and bucketed 14 during the first quarter, which saw the Warriors take a 34-10 lead at one point behind a fast break led by Guy Rodgers.

FINE NIGHT

Rodgers had a fine night, setting up nine goals and collecting 15 points himself. Tom Meschery wound up with 13 points but collected six of them during the first five minutes of play as the Warriors sailed off to an 18-4 advantage.

Cliff Hagan of the Hawks, who is usually good for 20 points per game, scored only six in this one and didn't get a basket until the third period. Reliable Bob Pettit, who has passed the 18,000-point mark in his National Basketball Assn. career, put away 24 more for the Hawks.

CEPEDA MENTIONED

Majors Start Trade Period At Midnight

NEW YORK (AP) — Their appetites whetted by the big trade involving Rocky Colavito, major league baseball owners get their chance to swing into high swapping gear beginning at midnight tonight.

That's the opening hour of the annual inter-league trading period, which will run until midnight Dec. 15.

Some big names have been talked about.

Among the American League players discussed in trade rumors are Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, Jim Gentile of Baltimore and Lu Clinton of Boston.

The American League teams seem particularly anxious to make personnel changes after the Los Angeles Dodgers proved in the World Series that the Yankees can be beaten.

That sent new hope through the league where it has been a long time since a real challenge to the Yankees was mounted.

Women's Basketball

PRESSBOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Jack Hanley

Horace Stoneham keeps repeating that Orlando Cepeda is not tradeable but nobody believes him. Just back from a Caribbean visit, the president and owner of the Giants disclosed that on three separate occasions it was necessary for him to deny Cepeda trade rumors.

When Stoneham arrived at San Juan Airport, he was asked if there were any truth to a report that Cepeda would be sent to Detroit for Rocky Colavito.

"Nothing to it," said Stoneham. "Orlando is not available."

The following day Stoneham was buttonholed by Tito Paniaguas, a reported of the San Juan Star, at Hiram Bithorn Stadium where Stoneham was watching Jose Pagan and Jose Cardenal in a winter baseball game between San Juan and Caguas.

Did Stoneham really mean what he said at the airport, Paniaguas wanted to know.

"Yes," replied Stoneham. "Orlando is not available. We do not anticipate any trade. We have not entertained any thought of trading him."

FINALLY, STONEHAM, Cepeda and Pete Zorilla, the super scout for the Giants in the Caribbean, went on TV and once again Stoneham repeated what he said at the airport and the ball park. Cepeda smiled at his boss and Stoneham smiled at Cepeda.

Regardless of the repeated denials by Stoneham that Cepeda is expendable, the slugging first baseman unquestionably will be the key man in a number of new paper trades manufactured between now and the winter baseball meetings at San Diego and Los Angeles Thanksgiving weekend.

CEPEDA, incidentally, is not playing any winter ball but may put in a couple of appearances with his old Santurce club later in the season "for old times sake."

"I plan to use a heavier bat next year," Cepeda told Stoneham. "I switched to a 37 ounce bat late last season. It felt good."

As far as his domestic life goes, Cepeda professed he and his wife, Annie, are "very happy" and that quickly squelched divorce action in San Francisco was "a mistake."

Light Heavyweight Title Hopeful's Career Finished

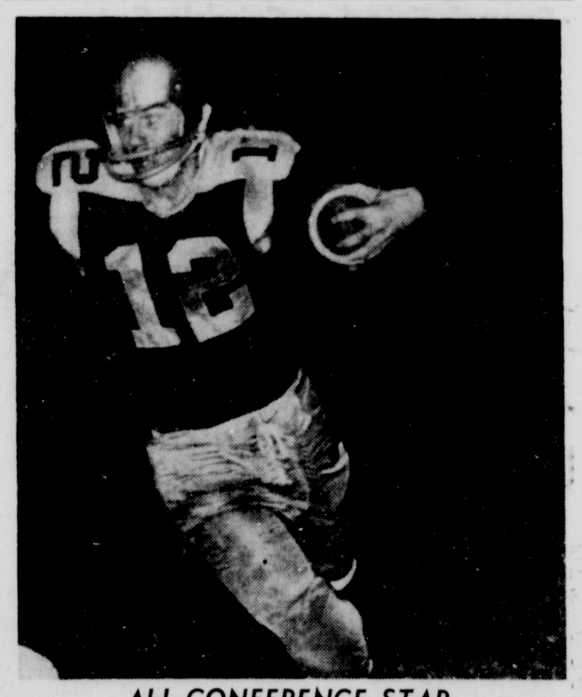
NEW YORK (AP) — Mauro Mina's chances of getting a long-sought light heavyweight title fight are finished. His long ring career may be over, at least in the United States.

The 30-year-old Peruvian, unbeaten in the last five years and ranked third among the 175-pound contenders, was dropped from a Madison Square Garden television fight with Chicago's Allen Thomas. An examination yesterday disclosed he had an operation for a detached retina of the right eye in March at Lima, Peru.

The State Athletic Commission does not permit boxers to fight after surgery involving a detached retina. It is doubtful whether any other state would permit him to box.

Redskins Activate Ex-Maryland Star

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Butsko, former University of Maryland linebacker, has been activated by the Washington Redskins and will play his first National Football League game Sunday in Philadelphia against the Eagles.



ALL-CONFERENCE STAR

Bob Sparrow of College of Marin, pictured in recent action, has been named first team quarterback on the All-Golden Valley Conference squad announced today. Nine other Marin players earned recognition on the all-star squad, including ends Martin Baccaglio and Randy Petrini, tackles Ron Grayson and Lyle Baucom, guard Don Ippolito, linebacker Don Burrows, halfbacks Rick Bottini and Don Stone and fullback Ray Miller. Details in tomorrow's I-J.

Santa Rosa Teams Edge S.R. Cagers

St. Eugene's School of Santa Rosa won three of five games against teams from St. Raphael's Parish of San Rafael last Saturday at the Santa Rosa courts.

The scores:

Fourth Grade—St. Eugene's 29, St. Raphael's 6; Fifth Grade—St. Eugene's 13, St. Raphael's 8; Sixth Grade—St. Raphael's 25, St. Eugene's 14; Seventh Grade — St. Eugene's 19, St. Raphael's 15; Eighth Grade—St. Raphael's 35, St. Eugene's 22.

Rough Schedule For Bears

By JIM BECKER

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the pro football wash, and don't forget to take the "War Plan" out of George Halas' pants pocket before you stick the trousers in the machine.

Papa Bear Halas may need that plan again Sunday, when the Chicago Bears meet the tough Steelers at Pittsburgh. The Bears followed Halas' written instructions to the letter against the Green Bay Packers for a 26-7 victory Sunday but it isn't over yet in the Western Conference of the NFL.

"I'd rather be playing any team in the league than the Steelers," Halas said. "They are tough and punishing." . . . Despite their two victories over the defending champion Packers, it may take a win over the Steelers to avoid a playoff with Green Bay. . . . The Packers, now 8-2, have a pretty soft road home the next four weeks, San Francisco twice, Los Angeles and Detroit. The Bears, 9-1, have Minnesota, San Francisco and Detroit, after the Steelers.

THEY LAUGHED when the Chicago offensive line got down on its haunches, before the Packers game. The Bears, with the rightest defense in the league, had been having trouble making touchdowns. . . . Offensive line coach Phil Handler pointed up the situation in a fanciful story. He claimed he accidentally jostled a woman fan after a game, and said: "No offense, madam." "That's right, young man," was the supposed reply. . . . But after the Packers game, they gave Handler the game ball, because of the way his troops performed.

Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi agreed the Bears were great. But he added: "If we finish second now, we will be the best team that ever finished second."

THINGS AREN'T over in the Eastern Conference, either, despite the one-game lead held by the New York Giants. . . . The Giants are home to the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday. The Cards are tied for second with the Cleveland Browns, and they trimmed the Browns 20-14 last Sunday. After the Giants-Cardinals game, the Cards meet the Browns again. . . . The two games should settle the Eastern race.

The Giants beat the Cardinals 38-21 earlier this season.

Santa Clara Star Calcagno Target For Pro Grid Scouts

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Professional football scouts, who used to be as rare as a winning football team in San Francisco, can be found hiding behind every post and peering from behind every wall down Santa Clara way these days.

Pat Malley, the cheerful coach of the revived Broncos, probably has seen enough of them to last him a life-time.

"They come at me from all sides to get a look at Ron Calcagno, our quarterback," says Pat. "I would have to guess that at least eight of the 14 National Football League teams have scouted him; and at least five of the American League clubs."

Calcagno, playing for a school on a small-time schedule, has been outstanding every game he has played. Fantastic would be a better word. Santa Clara just started playing de-emphasized football four years ago after quitting the big time more than a decade ago.

GREAT RECORD

In three years he has completed 227 passes out of 425 attempts, good for 3,489 yards. This year he tossed eight touchdown passes while leading the Broncos to a 6-3 record. The final effort was last Saturday when the club walloped Southern Oregon, 33-0.

But the highlight came when the Santa Clara team scored a 21-6 upset over a San Francisco State team that was supposed to be out of their class.

The pros like what they see when this lad trots on the field. He stands six feet tall and usually weighs around 198 pounds. He is a good field general and has a fine passing arm.

"He is one of the finest passers I've seen in many a year," said Coach Jack Curtice of University of California at Santa Barbara. "He has a fine touch and just doesn't throw a bad football. He's a great pro prospect."

Malley, who Monday was named the "Northern California Coach of the Year," has been lauding Calcagno since the day he entered Santa Clara.

"He's the perfect quarterback as far as I'm concerned," says the youthful coach.

A BIT LEARY

But the scouts have made him a little bit leary on adding anything more on what the lad can do.

"The other night," says Pat, "I was talking to a pro scout from one league when an owner from another league walked up and joined us.

"I introduced the two to each other—and then I got out of there. I didn't want to be the middle man on that conversation."

Calcagno wants to play pro football. And he'll probably listen to the man with the best offer for success.

Drake Frosh, J.V. Awards

For the Junior Varsity squad, Skip Farina was named Most Valuable Player. Best all-around sportsmanship award went to Bob Foti; the outstanding back was Bill Ingram, and the outstanding lineman, Doug Manuel.

The scholarship award, which is presented to those players holding a perfect 4.00 grade point average, was received by Larry Hardin, Doug Manuel and Peter Stone.

The Freshman squad was co-captained by Chet Carlisle and Karl Stein, who received plaques. Tony Iacopi was named the Most Valuable Player; Curtis Anderson the outstanding back, and Bill Hickerson the outstanding lineman. Mark Rasmussen received the best sportsmanship award.

Patriots, Oilers Sued By Gridder

HOUSTON (AP)—Claude Kin filed a suit in district court yesterday against the Boston Patriots and the Houston Oilers.

The former University of Houston halfback said he signed a contract with the Oilers on Aug. 7, 1962, which said he was to be paid $9,500 for the season.

Soon afterward he was transferred, without his consent, to the Patriots.

King claims $2,037 has been withheld from his pay, and the defendants "are attempting to breach the contract."

He asks the $2,037 in back pay that he says is due plus $400 transportation expenses and $900 in fees for his lawyer.

Jerry Donovan Key Man In Operation Of The S.F. Giants

By DAVE ROWE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — When Jerry Donovan was a youth, he had ambitions of becoming a major league ball player.

He climbed through the low minors to the tough Class AAA Pacific Coast League, where he was an outstanding outfielder for a decade with four different clubs.

He listened long, but he never got the call to the big time.

He finally made it, though—as an executive.

Donovan, who knows nearly every baseball fan in Northern California, is in charge of the park's operation, personnel and problems.

"When I hired Jerry," says Stoneham, "it was one of the smartest moves I ever made."

Donovan had been president of the San Francisco Seals, a Boston Red Sox farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Prior to that he was president of the California League, the Far West loop and for one year was executive secretary of the PCL.

The 55-year-old San Francisco native directed construction of the stadium, signed all vouchers for materials, solved labor problems and those with city officials and still handles all "beefs" from unhappy customers.

Donovan's biggest weapon against disgruntled persons is a captivating grin. He turned it on and they melt. The grin, plus good common sense usually solves the problem.

One of the finest outfielders in the PCL, he earned the nickname "Shadow" for his speed and ability to go after the ball. In 10 years with San Francisco, Sacramento, Seattle and Oakland, Donovan hit .300 or better five years and was a few percentage points off the mark two other years. He retired in 1939 with a back injury.

Donovan was recruited as president of the Far West League when it was organized in 1946. "Those were rough years," said Donovan, "but the experience has helped me greatly in my present post. I learned to listen."

TWO JOBS

"That first year I had 32 umpires. One would quit because of low pay and another would take his place only to quit later." In 1949 the California League offered Donovan the presidency if he gave up his Far West post. He refused to abandon the Far West loop but countered with an offer to handle both leagues, which he did.

In 1949 the California League's bank account was such it could not pay the umpires. Donovan dug into his own pocket for $2,000 to meet the payroll.

"It was a lot of money to me," he said, "but I got it back and the league kept operating."

The closest Donovan ever came to playing in the majors was in 1933 when his life-long friend, Joe Cronin, now American League president, was managing Washington. He wanted Donovan as outfield insurance, but he couldn't agree with Seal owner Charley Graham on a price and Donovan never got another chance.

BASKETBALL STAR

Donovan was a tremendous basketball player for the San Francisco Olympic Club. He won All-America AAU honors at the age of 16½ to become the youngest player to win such laurels.

Jerry hit the first home run at Seals Stadium. Twenty-five years later he returned as president of the team.

As a compliment to Donovan, Stoneham commented: "When it comes to the stadium, its facilities or personnel, we have no worries or problems. We just turn them over to Jerry."

Novato High Athletes To Get Awards

Athletes of Novato High School will receive the awrds they have earned for their participation in sports this fall tonight, 7:30 o'clock in the Sports Awards Assembly to be held in the school gym.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria after the presentation of the awards.

Lakers Farm Out Rookie Mel Gibson

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers are farming out rookie Mel Gibson so he'll get a chance to play regularly.

The Lakers announced Tuesday that Gibson will join the Wilmington, Del., club in time for its first Eastern Professional Basketball League game Saturday.

Dodgers Schedule 60 Night Games At Home In 1964

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers will play 60 night games at home in 1964, including one starting at 6 o'clock.

The Dodgers will play four home double-headers, all on Sundays. The first will be May 17 against Pittsburgh.

The San Francisco Giants make their first appearance of the season here May 1. They'll be back for a second series July 24 and another Aug. 24.

Angel Southpaw Hurls No-Hitter

CARACAS (AP) — Left-hander Mel Nelson of the Los Angeles Angels has pitched the second no-hit game in the history of winter league baseball in Venezuela.

Nelson, used mostly as a reliever by the Angels, pitched the no-hitter Monday night when the Orientals of the Western Winter League defeated the Caracas Lions 5-0. He walked one man. Two other Caracas batters reached base on errors.

Nelson, once an outfielder, had a 2-3 record with the Angels last year. He spent part of the season at Hawaii.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK — Lenny Mangiapane, 154½, New York, outpointed Georgie Briggs, 150, Brooklyn, 6.

Jimmy Brown Regains Lead In NFL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown of Cleveland regained the scoring lead from Green Bay's Jerry Kramer and Roosevelt Taylor of the Chicago Bears took over first place in interceptions in weekend play in the National Football League.

Although Brown's Cleveland Browns dropped out of a first-place tie in the Eastern Conference by a 20-14 defeat at the hands of St. Louis, Jimmy scored his 13th touchdown of the year for a total of 78 points, Jerry Kramer's only point was a conversion after the Packers' lone touchdown in that 26-7 defeat at Chicago. Kramer now has 76 points, only two more than New York's Don Chandler.

Brown gained 154 yards in 22 attempts, pushing his total for the year to 1,447. Another day like that and he will beat his own league record of 1,527 set in 1958. He needs only 80 yards and has four games to play.

Taylor grabbed two of the five interceptions by the Bears against Green Bay for a leading total of seven for 118 yards. Dick Lynch of New York still has the most yardage with 152 on six interceptions.

Cal's Morton Appears To Have Two Titles Cinched

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Southern California sophomore Mike Garrett had the Big Six rushing title locked up today, even though there is one more week of grid action.

Garrett romped for 159 yards against Oregon State Friday night to move his season's total to 714 yards on 116 carries for a 6.2 average. That puts him 223 yards ahead of second place Clarence Williams of Washington State.

California's junior quarterback, Craig Morton, also appears to have won a couple of titles. He has clicked on 93 passes for 1,355 yards and 14 touchdowns to dominate the passing figures.

Morton has lost 22 yards rushing but his 1,333 yards of total offense gives him almost a 200-yard lead on second place Bill Douglas of Washington, who has picked up 1,141 yards.

Willie Brown, USC's do-everything halfback, shares the scoring lead with Stanford's Dick Ragsdale. Both men have tallied 38 points. Brown also is the league's best pass-grabber with 31 catches good for 419 yards.

IMPERIAL WALTZ TORTE

Imperial Waltz Torte An Elegant Dessert—

HOMEMAKERS WHO insist on quality foods, gourmet cooks who like to show off with the most elegant dishes possible, and everyone who loves pecans can expect happy days ahead.

This year's pecan harvest is the biggest and the best on record, which means that all the wonderful recipes calling for lavish amounts of pecans can be prepared freely and frequently. For accenting the much-heralded "return to elegance" in American dining, pecan-rich dishes are certainly an ideal choice.

THE HOLIDAYS especially are a time when hostesses like to serve spectacular desserts that deliciously climax a long leisurely meal. One such creation, which we can recommend highly as a most successful way to ring down the curtain on a festive meal, is this pecan-studded Imperial Waltz Torte. It is a sweet tower of flakey butterscotch - flavored pastry layers alternating with whipped cream and toasted pecans. The rich pecan nut flavor partners well with the butterscotch . . . a handsome confection that is just sweet enough to satisfy, yet not fill past enjoyments.

A torte like this one will take a little time to make, but it is so simple to do, you won't mind for the result is well worth the effort! You might like to make the pastry layers ahead of time, wrap carefully in saran or foil and freeze. Defrost thoroughly before you spread each layer with the whipped cream and pecans.

THIS IS just one of many new and traditional desserts you'll want to make during the holidays that use pecans to flavor and garnish each creation. These nuts, native to America, are rich in history and folk lore. We'll wager they have inspired many a cook to prepare something extra special that shows off both her baking talents and the full flavor of this regal nut. Like the Imperial Waltz Torte, pecan desserts add a party touch to any occasion, the perfect ending to any meal.

IMPERIAL WALTZ TORTE

2 6-ounce packages butterscotch pieces
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 package pie crust mix or pastry mix for two-crust 9-inch pie
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
1 cup toasted chopped pecans
Whole pecans
Cream

In a saucepan combine butterscotch pieces, sugar and water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth. Add vanilla; cool. Blend ½ cup butterscotch sauce into pie-crust mix. Divide pastry into 6 equal parts (should be slightly less than ¼ cup each). On foil-covered cookie sheets draw 7-inch circles. Place a pastry portion in center of a circle; pat and press out dough to cover the circle. Bake at 425° for 5 minutes or until done; cool. Run tip of knife under edges of layers to loosen; lift off carefully. Repeat until six layers are made. Fold all but ½ cup remaining butterscotch sauce into whipped cream. Spread each layer with butterscotch cream and sprinkle with about 3 tablespoons pecans. Stack layers; garnish top with whole pecans. Chill until serving. Thin remaining ½ cup butterscotch sauce with a little cream and serve with torte.

Pastry Leftovers

Don't throw away pastry scrap leftovers. Roll the pastry to very thin consistency and brush with melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with sugar, grated orange rind and flaked coconut. Cut pastry into strips, diamonds or triangles and then bake.

SWEET POTATO PUFF

6 large sweet potatoes, cooked and mashed ¼ cup molasses
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup milk or light cream.

To hot mashed potatoes, add the molasses, 2 tablespoons of the butter, salt, nutmeg and milk; beat until smooth and fluffy. Fill 6 foil cornucopias with the mixture. Place on cookie sheet. Dot with extra butter and bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

'Shelled' Fruit Cake Neat Treat

Neatest trick of the season: bake fruit cake in orange shells for gift giving and party serving. Sliced crosswise, each attractice round will have a portion of sweet cake and tangy candied peel.

THESE FRUIT cakes take a little doing, but the making is spread over a couple of days. The orange shells are prepared one day and left in a syrup overnight; the next day they're filled with the fruit cake batter and baked.

The fruit cake conceits store well, so make them ahead. We tasted some (tightly wrapped) that had been left at room temperature for more than a month and they were delicious.

FRUIT CAKES IN CANDIED ORANGE SHELLS

1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash of cardamon
½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
4 eggs
1½ cups raisins
1 cup (8 ounces) mixed candied fruit
½ cup chopped walnuts
Candied Orange Shells and Orange Syrup
2 tablespoons sherry or port
Sugar

Sift together the flour, salt, cloves, nutmeg, and cardamon. Cream butter and brown sugar; beat in the eggs, thoroughly, one at a time. Stir in the sifted dry ingredients, then raisins, candied fruit and chopped walnuts. Spoon into Candied Orange Shells. Place in a baking pan. Brush with Orange Syrup. Bake in a slow (300 degrees) oven for 50 to 70 minutes. Cool. Prick top of cake with a fork; dribble sherry or port over cake. Cover with Candied Orange tops. Store in a container with a tight fitting over in a cool, dry place for several days. Roll in sugar. Wrap tightly in plastic transparent wrap and decorate packages. Slice horizontally to serve. Makes 6 large or 9 small cakes.

CANDIED ORANGE SHELLS AND ORANGE SYRUP

6 large or 9 small oranges
Water
Salt
3 cups sugar
¾ cup light corn syrup
1 cup water

CUT A SLICE from the top of each orange; scoop out plup; use pulp some other way. Place orange shells and tops in large kettle. Add 3 quarts water and 1 tablespoon salt. Bring to boil, then simmer 5 minutes. Drain and repeat using 3 quarts fresh water and 1 tablespoon salt. Drain. Scoop loose pulp from shells. Mix together the sugar, corn syrup and 1 cup water in saucepan. Bring to a boil stirring constantly. Cook without stirring to 240 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a soft ball that flattens on removal from water. Add orange shells and tops. Cook 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Cool slightly. Put shells and tops into shallow dish. Cover with syrup and let stand about 4 hours, turning occasionally. Remove shells and invert on small juice glasses to drain overnight. Let tops drain on wax paper. Reserve syrup. Use shells, tops and syrup as directed in recipe for Fruit Cakes in Candied Orange Shells.

Orange To Soup

Recipes From Colorado Eateries

A new cook book has come out of the West.

Two enterprising young women have been riding around Colorado (where they live), eating at what they consider the state's finest restaurants and cadging recipes from chefs.

The results are in "Colorado a la Carte," published by Alan Swallow (Sage Books) in Denver, and the authors are Beverly Anderson Nemiro and Donna Miller Hamilton. To help travelers as well as cooks, the restaurants' locations, price ranges, house specialties and history are noted.

The chefs' recipes include meat, poultry and fish dishes; breads and pancakes; sandwiches and sauces; salads and salad dressings; soups and vegetables; pies and other desserts. The restaurant cuisines offer interesting variety, and this is of course reflected in the recipes.

IT'S TOO BAD that since they home-tested these rules, trying them on their families, the Mesdames Nemiro and Hamilton didn't always include utensil measurements where these would be helpful. We wish, too, that they had not defined marrons as water chestnuts! But we will always be grateful to them for ferreting out and including a great recipe for trout. Tried in our own kitchen, its explicit directions worked perfectly.

HIGH COUNTRY TROUT
(From Hotel Splendide, Empire, Colo)

Salt
Pepper
6 lemon wedges

Place each trout on a bed of 3 pats butter, on aluminum steak platter. Put in very hot (450 degrees) oven, on bottom shelf, and cook until butter begins to turn brown, about 12 to 15 minutes. Salt and pepper trout lightly on both sides, turning over with spatula, leaving cooked side up. Return to oven and cook until trout is done, approximately 10 minutes. Serve with a wedge of lemon. The Hotel serves sliced cucumbers, marinated in a tart French dressing, and crisp hashed brown potatoes, as accompaniments. Makes 6 servings.

NEW WAY TO MAKE BEST EGGS

NEW SHIRRED EGGS

Butter or margarine
Eggs
Paprika

Spread butter generously over bottom and sides of shirred egg dishes. Crack 2 eggs into each dish without breaking yolks. Sprinkle with seasoning salt and paprika. Cover each dish tightly with aluminum foil. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 12 to 18 minutes depending upon firmness desired and whether you are using shirred egg dishes of porcelainized iron, copper, stainless steel, pottery, or 6-inch pie plates of ovenproof glass. Remove one dish after 12 minutes and check. Replace foil and bake longer if necessary. Serve at once.

A Festive Touch To Leftovers

Bake this ahead, store it in your freezer, and reheat for a festive touch with turkey leftovers.

SPECIAL MINCE PIE

Flaky pastry for 2-crust 8-inch pie
1 jar (1 pound, 2½ ounces) rum and brandy-flavored mincemeat
1 medium tart apple (pared, cored, and chopped fine)
4 teaspoons grated orange rind

Roll out half of pastry ⅛-inch thick; line an 8-inch pie plate with it. Roll out remaining pastry for lattice top and cut into ½-inch strips.

Mix together the mincemeat, apple and orange rind. Spread over bottom crust. Weave pastry strips lattice-fashion over mincemeat. Trim bottom crust and fold over or under strips to seal, form a high rim and flute. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 30 mintes or until pastry is brown. If made ahead, reheat before serving. Note: We like to place a strip of foil around the edge of the pie when it goes into the oven, removing it toward the end of the baking time.

New England Hero

Want a hearty he-man "sandwich?" Heat canned baked beans with chopped onion and catsup. Lightly mix in drained canned cling peach slices and heat 5 minutes longer. Spoon onto rounds of warm bread and top with crisp bacon.

Cereal For Nut Meat

Ever run out of nut meats while making cookies? Here's a good substitute: Crush sugar-coated cereal lightly and add to the batter.

CENTRAL VALLEY PLANS OUTLINED

Engineering, Financial Details Of Proposed $425 Million Water System Told Senate Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Engineering and financing details of the proposed 425-million-dollar Auburn-Folsom South unit of California's Central Valley Project were outlined yesterday to the Senate Interior Reclamation subcommittee.

Facts and figures were presented by two Interior Department officials. They endorsed a pending bill to authorize the proposal.

Kenneth Holum, assistant secretary of the interior, said the unit would utilize waters of the American River for irrigation, flood control, power and for municipal and industrial, fish and wildlife and recreational purposes.

"The Auburn-Folsom South unit would bring an annual increase of about 800,000 acre-feet of new water into this area to support the existing economy and future growth of agricultural production and expanding cities and industries," Holum said.

Holum said the department would have no objection if Congress wrote into the bill a section prohibiting the use of water from the project for the production of surplus crops for a specific period.

Sen. Thomas Kuchel (R-California) said he proposed to offer such an amendment.

Floyd E. Dominy, Reclamation Bureau commissioner, said plans call for construction of an earth-fill dam which would rise 690 feet above the stream bed of the American River at a site two miles southeast of Auburn and 30 miles northeast of Sacramento.

A concrete-lined chute spillway would be capable of discharging 200,000 cubic-feet of water a second. The reservoir formed by Auburn dam would have a capacity of about two and one-half million acre feet. One acre foot is the amount of water needed to cover an acre to a depth of one foot.

At normal water surface, at an elevation of 1,120 feet above sea level, the reservoir would cover 10,390 acres. At minimum operating water level, which Dominy said would seldom if ever occur, the surface would drop to 796 feet to form a pool covering 3,250 acres.

The project also calls for construction of a 67-mile gravity flow canal along the east side of the San Joaquin Valley from Lake Natoma to Lone Tree Creek, southeast of Stockton.

Fireman Pay Hike Backed

The commissioners recommended a $20 raise for Fireman Frank Galvin, who now draws $400 per month. The recommendation will go to the Marinwood Community Services District directors.

"We discussed minor things like petty cash expenditures and drapes being purchased for the new firehouse," said Dreyfoos.

Chiesa Back On Job After Virus Attack

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa returned to work this week after being sick with a virus infection for three weeks, one of which was spent in the hospital.

Chiesa said he will work two or three hours a day until he regains his strength.

San Jose's Students To Be Moved

If the weather improves so work can be finished, the San Jose School District will have all of its students in fulltime classes in their own classrooms by the end of this week, Supt. Ralph Giovanniello told district trustees Monday night.

The district has six classes now in rented space in Terra Linda and two classes remaining on double sessions at Meadow Park School.

The board inspected the six-classroom addition to the Loma Verde School prior to the meeting. It then decided to move the children from the rented space in Terra Linda to the new addition on Friday, if the work is completed.

The last of the six portable classrooms, which the district rented from California Cargo Corp. of Hayward, has arrived and should be ready for classes tomorrow, Giovanniello reported. This will eliminate all double sessions at Meadow Park School, he said.

The board approved two sidewalk projects for the safety of the students. It authorized building a short section of sidewalk from Alameda de la Loma to the Loma Verde School and east of the access road to the district offices from the Meadow Park School to the main entrance of Hamilton Air Force Base. The latter will keep the children from walking in the access road, Giovanniello said.

Following the business meeting, 50 people attended five discussion sessions on recreation, the English program, the testing program, financial matters, and an open question period.

AFS Potluck Dinner

Actor's Maid Is Found Sane

LOS ANGELES (AP)— A jury ruled yesterday that housemaid Ruth Wenzel, 37, was sane when she shot at actor George Montgomery last Aug. 27.

The same jury convicted her last week of simple assault, acquitting her of charges of burglary and assault with intent to commit murder.

Gatov Is Chairman Of Transit Study

Albert W. Gatov, a Kentfield storage company executive, has been named chairman of the San Francisco Bay Area Transportation Study Commission and two other Marin County residents were appointed members by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The three are among seven members selected by Governor Brown for the 37-man commission and serve four-year terms. Other members are appointed by the legislature and other agencies and local governments.

The commission was created by the 1963 state legislature to make a comprehensive study of the Bay Area's transportation problems.

In announcing his seven appointments today, Brown said the commission's project will be "one of the most exhaustive transportation studies ever prepared for any community."

He added, "The studies, supported by several million dollars in federal, state and local funds, will involve the Bay Area's freeways, bridges, transit systems and air and seaport facilities.

"Clearly," the governor said, "this commission will be an important factor in the future of the Bay Area and I am pleased that men and women of such high caliber and proven civic concern have agreed to serve on it."

The newly appointed chairman, Gatov, 55, is a member of the Board of Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, Suisun and San Pablo bays, and in October of 1962 was appointed by President John F. Kennedy as a commissioner of the U.S. section of the International North Pacific Fisheries Commission.

His wife is former U.S. Treasurer Elizabeth Smith Gatov. They reside at 21 Rancheria Road in Kentfield. He is with Inland Harbor Storage Co., San Francisco.

Rotel, of 5 Sonora Way in Corte Madera, served on the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission from 1950 to 1957 and was instrumental in its formation. He is secretary-treasurer for Pacific Coast Metal Trades Council, San Francisco.

Mrs. Azevedo is a member of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and is a former member of the Democratic County Central Committee and the Marin County Planning Commission. She is also a member of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council. She resides at 1875 Centro West, Tiburon.

Network Drops Funnyman Lewis

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Jerry Lewis yesterday found himself without a show on ABC-TV but his grief is somewhat mitigated by a four-million-dollar settlement of his contract.

That estimate of the network's payoff in canceling Lewis' live two-hour Saturday night show came from a legal source close to him.

Jerry himself was not talking beyond the terse statement issued by the network that the show would be dropped at Lewis' request effective Dec. 14.

Terra Linda High Elects Song, Yell Leader Groups

Fiery Spanish Dancer Carmen Amaya Dies

BAGUR, Spain (AP)—Carmen Amaya, 50, fiery Spanish flamenco dancer known as the "Gypsy Earthquake," died yesterday in this Costa Brava resort village after a long illness.

Miss Amaya, decorated by the Spanish government in her last days, was born in a Gypsy hut on Barcelona's waterfront. She went on to become the toast of presidents, kings and millionaires throughout the world.

Daily Costs Differ At Marin Hospitals

A survey of claims paid by Blue Cross to patients during the first six months of 1963 showed that room cost at Marin General, Ross, Novato General and San Rafael General hospitals was $27.

Highest hospital for other costs paid in claims was $23.65 at Marin General Hospital. These costs include drugs, X-rays, laboratory work and operations. Lowest cost per day was at Ross where it cost $17.19.

At Novato the cost was $20.85 and at San Rafael General it was $20.49. These two hospitals are non-profit community hospitals. Ross is a private hospital. Marin is a district hospital.

A random sampling of other hospitals in the Bay Area shows that non-profit hospitals charge between $24 to $30 for room costs. Other costs run from $19.43 to $25.81.

For district hospitals the room costs were all about $27. Other costs varied from $18.58 to $27.84. At private hospitals room costs varied between $25 and $30. Other costs ranged from $15.41 to $29.68.

Four Terra Linda Men Hurt In Crash

Four Terra Linda men commuting to San Francisco were bruised at 7:15 a.m. Monday on the Greenbrae overcrossing of Highway 101 when their station bus skidded and landed on its side along the divider curb, snarling city-bound traffic about 15 minutes.

The driver, Donald J. Ewald, 38, of 882 Las Pavadas, told California Highway Patrolman Richard Treadwell that as his eyes left 25-mile-an-hour traffic ahead for a moment, the cars stopped and then he slammed on his brakes.

Ewald and his passengers, Anton T. Lonich, 35, of 1091 Las Pavadas, Richard F. Hanley, 34, of 536 Las Collindas, and Lynn D. Engstrom, 33, of 351 Holly Drive, were to see their doctors.

Quite a potato, the Idaho baker. Even when it's frozen it holds its flavor right to the last ounce. Reason why: it grew up in Idaho. Nurtured there on fresh mountain water and rich volcanic soil at the perfect potato-growing altitude. This way the flavor gets grown in to stay . . . fresh or frozen. Tough If You Can't Drive; What If You Can't Read?

"Driver Training Wins Over Books at Novato" read a recent I-J headline over a news story reporting action by Novato Unified School District Board trustees.

They had voted 4-1 to take $8,700 from undistributed reserves to cover cost of continuing the driver training program at the high school. (Of course they'll get the money back from the state if they live long enough.)

William Kirk, the sole dissenter, had asked: "You mean you would spend nearly $9,000 in driver training when there aren't enough books in any library in the district?"

That, it seems, is just what his colleagues meant. As Supt. James G. Bunker put it, "We suddenly found that we have a lot of kids wanting driver training." Evidently Novato dads have not discovered it is still possible to teach Junior to drive, and improve their own driving in the process.

It is to be hoped nobody discovers the appetite kids have for ice cream cones. Youth must be served.

Things are pretty tough back in New York City, too. There the kiddies have really been having fun, to the extent sometimes of virtually breaking their schools up for bonfires.

More or less in self-defense against New York's 1,047,800 school-age youngsters (as Time magazine points out, they outnumber the soldiers in the U.S. army) New York has hired as superintendent one Calvin Gross of Pittsburgh. Son of an immigrant Jewish tailor who went through the New York public schools and in 1916 drove a Model T Ford to Los Angeles where he became a no-nonsense principal of the San Fernando High School. Gross won honors in math and took his master's degree at the University of Southern California. Services in the Los Angeles area caused board of education reports that he was "outstanding," urgings of "don't let this man go"—but he went anyhow, back East to quite a lot of tough problems now culminating in New York.

All this leads up merely to the estimate of hardheaded Gross, who must know this is the automobile age but who in Time's words "labels driver education 'a good example of a certified, gold-plated frill.' "

This, he thinks, is an example of what he calls "extraneous subjects" meaning things the youngsters might well learn elsewhere than in school, such as maybe at home if they are ever at home.

Of the need for reading Gross insists that youth must be made to learn to read. He comments that if a boy "can't read well, he'll find locked doors for the rest of his life."

Presumably New York Superintendent Gross might find he had quite a bit in common with School Trustee William Kirk of Novato.

Marin Has Top Value For Homes

Marin County now ranks first in California in average market value of single family dwellings of non-farm type, according to latest studies of the U. S. Department of Census.

Marin's average value is now $28,500, up more than $5,000 from the figure of the 1960 census and comparing with $25,300 in Santa Barbara County and $22,100 for San Mateo County. (Sonoma County has $14,500 average.)

What's more, our county ranks sixth nationally including the city and county of Honolulu quite a way offshore. Greenwich, N. Y., tops the lot with $37,800, followed by Brookline, Mass., at $36,500. Honolulu is $31,100 and the only other county over Marin is New York's famed Westchester with average value of $27,500.

It seems time to realize that a lot of people don't live in primitive cabins any more—and some of those cabins have been made mightly respectable!

MEDICAL CARE FOR AGED

Lobbyists Girding For Big Fight On Kennedy's 'Medicare' Bill

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — While public attention is focused on taxes and civil rights, lobbyists are preparing for a potentially explosive election year fight on a third legislative issue — medical care for the aged.

President Kennedy's "medicare" plan to finance hospital and nursing home care for the elderly through increased Social Security benefits lay dormant till Tuesday.

Action will be put over until next year. But lobbyists, girding for battle on an issue that affects the nation's 16 million aged, are working to promote their positions.

Dozens of organizations are taking formal stands before Ways and Means. However, the groups which will play a key role in the legislative infighting when the debate gets hot in 1964 number less than half a dozen. These have vital economic, professional and ideological stakes in the measure.

EXPECTED to testify and work most actively against the bill: the American Medical Assn. and the insurance industry. In favor: organized labor, particularly the AFL-CIO, and the National Council of Senior Citizens, formed by ex-leaders of the Senior Citizens for Kennedy movement that functioned during the 1960 campaign.

A study of the positions and lobbying plans of these groups provides an illuminating view of how—and why—pressure groups attempt to work their will in Congress.

It claims to speak for nearly three-fourths (200,000) of the nation's doctors. There seems to be little question that the AMA's opposition to the medicare program commands a high degree of support from the medical profession.

THE INSURANCE industry, which ranges from private commercial firms to nonprofit groups like Blue Cross, has a major financial stake in the medicare question. A health insurance spokesman recently told CQ that if the administration bill were passed, he believed most privately covered persons 65 and over would drop their private policies.

Before the Ways and Means Committee, industry representatives argue that it can provide adequate health insurance for the aged which will be better tailored to individual family needs. It will contend that where private initiative can meet needs, the federal government should not interfere.

The industry is campaigning against the bill by developing a new kind of insurance policy designed to reduce support for medicare. Insurance companies "guarantee" to give this policy to any applicant over 65, regardless of health.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Our Bruce Has A Kindly Heart

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The directors of the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District wish to thank you most warmly for the news coverage given our recent election on the bond issue.

We were particularly pleased to find ourselves on the front page of your paper just prior to the election, when such prominence could do us the most good, and also following the election, when the overwhelming majority in favor was "something to shout about."

We would also like to say a word in praise of Bruce Coleman, whose interest in the Bolinas community and his accurate and sympathetic reporting of the facts have won him many friends among Bolinas residents.

MISS TINA DIGESTI
San Rafael

Terra Lindans And The Draper Case

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What motivates this small group of men, the San Rafael Planning Commissioners and ostensibly public servants, to treat as a mere triviality a petition with 959 signatures? Is it their superior wisdom and experience in urban planning, is it their high-mindedness and integrity as business men and citizens in the community that gives them this prerogative to over-look and prejudge?

For although they listened to the Terra Linda Homeowners presentation of objections, they had already made up their minds to accede to the Draper Co. request, and very neatly left the problem sitting right in the homeowners' lap. In essence, at the end of the "hearing" they said, "Work out your deal (compromise they called it) with the Draper Co. We've already made up our minds."

I think this is a pretty high-handed and ineffectual way of treating the requests of a responsible, sizable group of citizens. In fact, it's insulting their intelligence.

One of the major concerns of these families is for the safety of children when the traffic increases. Should we not be concerned about this? The police dept. are cooperative and express concern but even now have difficulty patrolling the whole area. With access roads from the proposed apartments running down into the residential area (Nova Albion) the situation will not improve.

The Draper Co. say the homeowners are uncooperative and have no "alternative proposal." If the planning commission and Draper feel there must be apartments on the hill, put them all on the other side where apartments have already been built and run the access roads down to Las Gallinas. This will lead them directly to the Freitas Parkway.

The homeowners are not the group of irresponsible, foggy-minded people, reluctant, even, to pay their taxes, that the Draper Co. would like everyone to believe. In contrast, the Draper Co. are extremely slick operators, clever and inventive, wealthy enough to hire the best men to do their "persuading." After all, this method has worked very well for them in their business, which is developing shopping centers. They have proved they know how to reach key people.

But do they feel any responsibility for what happens to a community after the development phase? I doubt it very much. Not specialists like these. The headaches are passed on to someone else.

In brief, when the rights of private individuals are no longer heard or even considered by local government officials, I say an unhealthy, unjust situation exists. It is certainly something not to be proud of in one's community.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

From Philadelphia comes the story of two rival suspender salesmen who were boasting of their products. "Five army mules pulled on either end of a pair of our braces," proclaimed one, "and they couldn't make them break."

"Paghh!" scoffed the other. "Yesterday I was rushing to catch a train at Penn Station in New York, and my suspenders got caught in a pillar on the platform. I made my train all right, but when the conductor opened the door in Philadelphia, those darn suspenders of ours snapped me right back to New York."

California G.O.P. Fouled Up Yet State Gives A Test

LOS ANGELES — Even its best friends will tell you that the Republican party is in something of a mess in California.

Gone are the halcyon days of Earl Warren, Goodwin Knight, Richard Nixon, and William Knowland — the era when the Republican voice was dominant in California and California's voice was high in the councils of government.

IT WAS only a few years ago that the Republicans had just about everything in this state. Now they have just about nothing. As late as 1958 the GOP had the governorship, the state legislature, both senatorships, and a majority of the Congressional delegation. Out of it all, the party now has one senator, the highly popular Thomas Kuchel whose strength spans party lines.

The ailing Democratic senator, Clair Engle, will probably not seek re-election next year. His seat will be a plum easily within reach of the Republicans here.

The present plight of the party is illustrated by the fact that it does not have a candidate to reach for it, nobody of stature and standing who can make a strong bid.

ALTHOUGH the political extremists on both sides have long been active in this state, California voters have almost invariably rejected them for public office.

When the Democratic party was itself weak and leaderless from the early '40s to the late '50s, it was the easy prey of the political left. Its return to power only began when it finally put up a Democratic moderate for the governorship in the person of Pat Brown.

Today the weak and leaderless Republican party — the party of Warren, Knight, and Nixon—is in danger of being taken over by the extreme right. Except for former Sen. Knowland, the most audible voices in the Republican party here are far to the right of Sen. Goldwater. They are cheering for Goldwater not because he is conservative enough, but because he is the most conservative they can find.

WHEN the Young Republicans at their national convention in San Francisco recently listened to a shocking condemnation of former President Eisenhower, showed they thought Sen. Barry Goldwater not adequately conservative, and indicated that they would really prefer a presidential nominee like former Congressman John Rousselot, now a paid organizer for the John Birch Society, these extremist antics rightly got national attention.

It is in this kind of political disarray that Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Goldwater will likely be engaging in a head-on contest for the largest bloc of delegate votes (84) on the very eve of the Republican convention.

Gov. Rockefeller has every incentive to make the contest. He has nothing to lose. He couldn't win the presidential nomination without a California victory; winning it would give his candidacy a large boost.

SEN. GOLDWATER has much to lose by stepping back. He can't afford to concede this huge delegation to Rockefeller by refusing to compete. Whoever wins the primary gets the whole delegation.

California is an ideal site for a climactic test of the vote-getting ability of these two divergent Republican leaders. It is the most populous state in the Union. The California electorate is a good cross-section of the national electorate. It is a heavily industrialized state with an appreciable farm population. Republican conservatism is strong here, but there are not a few Republican liberals.

A verdict as to whom the Republican voters would like to see nominated in a state as large and typical as California would be a valuable guide to the Republican convention.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Fifty dog owner petitioned the Ross City Council not to pass a pup-impounding ordinance so the council decided to delay.

Dangerous psychopaths were to be sent to San Quentin Prison instead of Mendocino State Hospital hereafter and prison officials said there was no place to keep them save with other convicts.

20 YEARS AGO

Dedication of a new boy scout building in San Rafael, gift of Jacob Albert, was attended by several hundred persons.

A Mill Valley couple filed $3,125 suit for a dog bite suffered by the husband, alleging mental shock, pain, and upset of the couple's general way of life.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Cuban Refugees Brought In Aliens From Other Lands

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Those Cuban refugees that Castro permitted to come to the U. S. during the first six months of 1963 as part of the Bay of Pigs prisoner-ransom exchange weren't all Cubans.

Among the refugees were 333 aliens born in countries other than Cuba — including a number of nationals from Communist China, Russia, Poland and Hungary.

Largest group of these aliens brought to the U. S. by the American Red Cross vessels that carried the ransom supplies to Cuba were 220 from Spain, 13 from Poland, 12 from Turkey, 11 from Communist China, 10 from Germany, and seven from Lebanon.

OTHER FOREIGNERS among the refugees included nationals from Argentina, three; Bahamas, one; Brazil, three; British West Indies, one; Canada, three; Chile, one; Colombia, two; Costa Rica, two; Denmark, one; Dominican Republic, two; England, five; France, one; Greece, one; Honduras, one; Hungary, one; Italy, two; Lithuania, four; Mexico, four; Morocco, one; Norway, one; Panama, one; Peru, one; Portugal, three; Russia, three, Switzerland, five; Syria, five, and Venezuela, two.

These and other even more intriguing details are included in the latest chapter on the backstage negotiations of the Bay of Pigs prisoner exchange to be revealed by the House Judiciary Subcommittee making an inquiry into the entire Cuban refugee program.

Headed by Rep. Michael Feighan (D-O.), the subcommittee is releasing 110 pages of closed-door testimony, including an admission by Abba P. Schwartz, administrator of the State Department's Bureau of Security & Consular Affairs, that Castro was permitted to designate 50 per cent of the Cuban refugees.

THE SECRET 50-50 deal has been vigorously denied by both the State Department and the White House..

In releasing the subcommittee's hearings this week, Feighan challenged the denials, stating:

"The testimony before our subcommittee of Abba P. Schwartz, administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, shows conclusively that a deal was worked out with Castro whereby he was permitted to designate 50 per cent of the Cuban refugees allowed to come to the U.S. as part of the Bay of Pigs prisoner exchange."

To support his statement, Feighan pointed out five references to the 50-50 deal in Schwartz's testimony.

The transcript of the hearing shows an exchange between Schwartz and Representative Richard Poff, D-Va., in which the latter inquired about the screening of refugees, stating:

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

School's History Reading List Sets Off A Big Explosion

SELDOM HAS a concerned parent's query about a facet of her child's education exploded to such proportions and in such a variety of directions as that of a San Rafael mother a few months ago regarding a supplementary reading list for a high school history class.

Mrs. Charles G. Strom last spring took to Supt. Bert C. Corona a reading list furnished her daughter for a class in United States history at San Rafael High School.

AS A RESULT of this simple complaint and inquiry:

(1) The superintendent set up a book list review committee involving not only teachers and administrators in San Rafael schools, but even the county superintendent's office;

(2) Mrs. Bella H. Aaron, a San Rafael Board of Education member, declared that academic freedom was threatened;

(3) Mrs. Edythe Tait announced formation of a parents' committee, its intentions only vaguely defined, organized in such an atmosphere of hysteria that its members declined to be identified "for fear of reprisals against our children."

(4) Some loose charges of "indoctrination" have been voiced by both sides.

THE POWER of books has long been recognized, but that a mere list of them should produce all this is amazing indeed.

The list (it was published on Page 14 of the Independent-Journal of Nov. 13) includes 32 books. Of these, the students were to select two to read and review in connection with the study of U. S. history since 1860.

Of the 32 books on the list, 18 are novels and one is a play. Attempting to learn history by reading fiction is fraught with peril at best, but in this case most of the works are not even historical novels in the usual sense. Three are not even set in the United States.

A 20th BOOK is listed as "fiction": John Hersey's "Hiroshima," world renowned as a piece of outstanding reporting. This mis-classification alone might cause suspicion of the whole list.

The 12 books on the nonfiction list include one set outside the U. S. and with only most tenuous connection with American history. Although the period covered by the course includes the Civil War, no Civil War book is on the list.

It would appear, then, that an interested parent might with reason question the selection. It would appear that an interested educator would certainly do so.

BUT THE evaluation of this and other supplementary reading lists would seem to be a normal function of department heads, vice principals and principals. It would not appear to call for creation of a special committee.

Certainly parents should avoid trying to tell teachers how to teach, or even what to teach. But a parent is entitled to some assurance that his or her child is not being shortchanged on subject mater.

HISTORY, after all is a rather important subject, despite the efforts of California schools to submerge it in the morass of "social studes."

A. L. Rowse, an Oxford don and eminent British historian, has something of value to say on this:

"Now that the United States has assumed the burden and responsibility of leadership of the western world, a knowledge and understanding of history are more than ever important if she is to play her part properly. This means an increasing historical-mindedness on the part of the American people, greater awareness of history among the public, a bigger place for history . . . in education. For political maturity necessitates historical understanding: the latter is a prime component of the former."

For such preparation, our high school students should read two novels to supplement the text?

ART BUCHWALD

Investigate Congress? Why, That Is Positively Unpatriotic!

While our great legislative body has elaborate machinery to investigate every facet of national and international affairs, Congress for some unknown reason has few rules concerning its own members, and the problem is who is going to investigate the investigators.

We take you now to Capitol Hill, where they are holding a joint House-Senate meeting to discuss the question.

SEN. HOGGLESWATER speaks first. "Gentlemen, I've called this extraordinary session of Congressional leaders to decide on what methods we shall adopt in investigating Congress."

"Investigate Congress?" Rep. Wigglechair says. "Why do we want to do that?"

"There has been a public outcry to find out what we've been doing up here on the Hill, particularly since everyone knows we haven't passed anything this year," Sen. Hoggleswater says.

"THAT'S the most un-American thing I've heard of," says Sen. Okra. "I say let's get to the bottom of this public outcry and find out who's really behind it."

Sen. Hoggleswater says, "Indignation will get us nowhere. We have to prove to the American public that we're clean and the only way we can do it is to have an investigation — open and above board."

Okra is shocked. "Open and above board? That's the worst kind of investigation to have. Can't we meet in closed session behind locked doors? After all, somebody could get hurt in this investigation."

"AS LONG as we're investigating, gentlemen," says Rep. Cheeseburger, "I would like to know what Rep. Filibuster was doing at a Playboy Club with a certain Miss Fish and Chips of 1962 when his wife was out of town."

"See here, Cheeseburger, since we're looking into things we might ask you why you took a Congressional cleaning woman with you on your junket to Latin America," Filibuster shouts.

OKRA SAYS, "Let's find out why three Democratic Senators were able to win $3,000 in Las Vegas and then asked for a depreciation in gambling profits in the new tax bill."

"And what about the five Republicans who accepted an all-expense-paid trip to Japan with their wives, and then proposed to lower all duties on Japanese transistor radios?"

"QUIET, EVERYBODY!" shouts Okra. "We're going about this the wrong way. I'd like to ask a question. Why do we have to have this investigation?"

"Exactly. So I move we investigate the press."

The group votes unanimously to investigate the press to find out why they have been demanding an investigation of Congress. Once again the most exclusive club in the world is saved.

Funds Urged For Deprived Youngsters

Dr. Jaul F. Lawrence, first Negro ever named an associate superintendent of public instruction, said California must find better ways to help youngsters who never get out of their own little ghettoes.

Those are children, he said, who haven't any idea of what can be accomplished if they work hard. The reason: they've never really seen the outside world.

WATCHING ADULTS

He is also chairman of a commission on compensatory education, created by the 1963 legislature to run a pilot program helping culturally deprived youngsters.

Lawrence cited the success of New York's "Higher Horizons" program, in which he was active from 1949 to 1956.

Slum children were taken to cultural events and on sightseeing tours. They also spent some time out of the city.

OUTLOOK IMPROVES

"Their whole outlook was visibly improved," Lawrence said.

Although he has spent much of his life fighting for opportunities for Negroes, Lawrence does not like to think of culturally deprived children in racial or ethnic terms.

"Whenever a person doesn't understand his role in the big community," he says, "he is culturally deprived. These persons exist on both sides of the tracks. We must eliminate their feeling that there is a ceiling beyond which they may not go."

California's pilot program is pitting 24 school districts throughout the state against each other to come up with different ways to brighten the future for the underprivileged.

The 1963 legislature set it up and voted $324,000 this year to run it.

Marin Sets Pattern For Training

The State Department of Employment is so impressed by the Marin County minority training and employment program that it is preparing a training program specifically tailored to the requirements of the county.

This was disclosed in the first month's progress report presented to the county board of supervisors yesterday by Marie Ray, coordinator of Marin's minority training and employment program.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr expressed his "personal disfavor" of the California Real Estate Board's opposition to the program.

Mrs. Ray reported the State Department of Employment has revised its prerequisites for entry into manpower development training act classes, solely for Marin County. "A general clerical training class is now being formulated according to the specifications of the Marin County government," said Mrs. Ray.

She said the state is cooperating with the county to take a skills survey of Marin City, to determine the number of people who might benefit from the training program. Standards of curriculum will be set up after survey results are evaluated.

Mrs. Ray was hired on a three-month trial basis to coordinate the minority training program. County supervisors approved the pilot program at suggestion of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

Tiburon Group Sets Election

Reporting will be Leo Souza, chairman of the transportation and utilities committee, with committee members Bruce E. Moody, Gerald S. Noble, Edward C. Pino, Milton L. Stannard Jr., and Margaret Azevedo.

Results of the study of school unification will be presented by committee chairman J. Donald McCune.

William Rafter, newly appointed membership chairman, will also report.

Pleads Innocent To Burglary

Lemuel Leon Knowles pleaded innocent Monday in Marin County Superior Court to the burglary of Cox TV and Radio Store in Terra Linda, Oct. 9. Judge N. Charles Brusatori set the trial Jan. 7.

Knowles, 47, was one of three Oakland men arrested shortly after the burglary was seen in progress by a newspaper deliveryman. Last week Robert Louis Hood, 29, pleaded guilty to second degree burglary.

Aboard Landing Ship

T. J. Quinlivan Jr., Navy fireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Quinlivan of 46 Hillside Ave., San Anselmo, is serving aboard the dock landing ship Thomaston, which returned to San Diego last week from an eight month tour of duty with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Symphony Guild's Luncheon To Feature Soloist Jane Marsh

Marin Symphony conductor Sandor Salgo will be guest speaker at the 11 a.m. program on Nov. 27 at the Meadow Club. Honor guest and soloist at the preview will be dramatic soprano Jane Marsh of Mill Valley, who will be guest soloist with the Marin Symphony at the first concert of the season to be held on Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. in the Marin Catholic High School auditorium. Mrs. J. R. Witt will be the accompanist.

MISS MARSH will be entertained at a luncheon following the program by Mrs. Robert L. Schultz. They will be joined by Miss Marsh's mother, Mrs. Earle M. Marsh of Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Salgo, Mrs. Walter M. Baird, president of the Symphony Guild, and Mesdames John A. Lesoine and and Maurice S. Salomon, and Mrs. Witt.

Mesdames Eugene Yates and M. J. Makeby are co-chairmen of the preview luncheon. Greeting guests at the door will be Mesdames Edward M. Zeller, John Anton, A. F. Wagele, Tore Noren, Hugh Middleton, Eugene C. Lloyd, G. Edward French, Edward R. Hindley, George Federighi and Joseph W. Crawford.

Mrs. Mackby has invited as her luncheon guests Mesdames Arnold Wieser, John Wolfe, William Winter, Richard Hughes and H. P. McFarland. Among Mrs. Yates' guests will be her mother, Mrs. Edward Lynch of San Francisco.

MRS. RALPH B. Dewey will be joined at lunch by Mesdames Robert Daugherty, Boyd O. Whitney, Rolf Persinger, Russell H. Baum and Wayne Speckmann, Florence Donnelly and Mrs. Natalie Brown. Mrs. George Federighi will lunch with Mesdames W. W. Greene and Everett Girtler.

Coming from Sausalito will be Mrs. Emmett L. Rixford and her guests, Mesdames John Harlan, Hal B. Fletcher, Edgar D. Ross, R. Jerrold Hooper, Alan Scurfield and William Burks.

LUNCHING with Mrs. A. S. Giesecke of San Rafael will be Mesdames William Pemberton, Rodney B. Hartman, Delmar Clinton and Mrs. Marybelle Scott.

MRS. SAMUEL CANFIELD TO FETE GRANDDAUGHTER AT HIGH TEA

Mrs. Samuel Russell Canfield of Mill Valley will honor her granddaughter, Joan Meredith Pryor, at a traditional high tea to be given Dec. 15 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

One of this year's Marin debutantes, Joan, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pryor of Mill Valley, is the fifth generation of a pioneer California family. She is a freshman at the College of Marin.

The Outdoor Art Club was especially selected for the occasion because of the family's intimate associations for many years with the club, the town of Mill Valley and Mount Tamalpais. Joan's grandparents spent part of their honeymoon on the mountain.

Debutantes assisting as junior hostesses will be Julia Dillingham, Kathy Heilbron, Sara Reiter, and Shelley Smith, Joan's cousin, Freyar Horne, and Lynn Crawford.

Kassebohm-Grissim Nuptials Set

Of interest in Marin is the wedding set Dec. 7 of Sylvia Kassebohm and John deLafayette Grissim Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John deL. Grissim of Carmel, formerly of Marin. The family wedding will take place in Carmel, with a reception to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Washburn of Corral de Tierra.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Walter Kassebohm of Hamburg, Germany, and formerly of Berkeley, and the late Mrs. Kassebohm. She was graduated from Sarah Dix Hamlin School in San Francisco and attended the University of California and is attending University of Hawaii.

John attended St. George's School in Newport, R. I. and University of California. He is serving with the U.S. Navy aboard the USS Stark Country in Honolulu.

The future bridegroom is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edgar Gallwey of Kent Woodlands and is the grand nephew of Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Baker of San Francisco. He is the brother of Mrs. Eugene Theroux, Wendy, Cynthia, Peter and Anthony Grissim of Carmel.

It's Time Again For Quest To Find Perfect Yule Tree

During the next few weeks, millions of families will set out on their annual, happy excursion: To select the most beautiful Christmas tree ever. Last year, for example, shoppers paid some $85 million for nearly 45 million trees.

Since most of the trees make long journeys from the forests of this country and Canada, the industry asked the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture to establish U.S. standards for Christmas trees.

Describing various levels of tree quality and serving as a common language to make long distance trading easier, the standards are used primarily by the wholesale trade. However, consumers also can use the standards as guides for judging tree quality.

TREE GRADE STANDARDS: A U.S. Premium tree must be of at least medium density and show to good effect from any direction. There must be no noticeable defects; no holes or gaps in the foliage; broken or unduly long branches; crooks in the stem or longer branches. In short, it is a top grade tree which can be placed in the center of a room.

A U.S. No. 1 tree must have all the quality of a U.S. Premium tree, except that one face may have a defect of shape.

Novato Guild Reports Highest Profit From Grape Festival

Novato Guild No. 1 reported the highest single profit: $1,925. Other high guild totals were San Francisco, $1,735; Grape Booth, $1,609; Greenbrae Acorns, $1,424; Strawberry No. 2, $1,400, and Strawberry No. 1, $1,350.

Belvedere's five guilds together turned in a total of $4,474, and the four Terra Linda guilds made $2,423. The Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary, in charge of the children's gayway, netted $2,196. Profits were $1,284 from the hamburger-hot dog stands operated by students and faculty members from the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Nineteen guilds reported profits of $1,000 or more, and ten others netted over $500.

Holiday Place Settings For Garden Section Meet

Holiday place settings will form the program on Friday for the 1 o'clock luncheon meeting of the Garden Section of the Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club in Kentfield.

Mrs. Esther McDonald will show different place settings for 20 tables. A special feature of the program will be a talk on holiday food by Mrs. Myron Kaplan.

Tea will follow the program. Mrs. Herman Mangels is in charge of the tea. She will be assisted by Mesdames James Campbell, Ronald Bescey and A. C. Randig.

California Sportswear Designs Attempt To Outdazzle The Sun

Not only are the colors brilliant, but vivid oranges, lemons, limes, flame blues, shocking pinks and purples are splashed together in bold combinations.

ALTHOUGH THE colors threatened to steal the show—staged by the California fashion creators for newspaper fashion editors from across the United States and Canada — the accept was triple: fabric and function as well as color. And the silhouette also followed the spring trend toward the softer look.

Some of the designers went south of the border for their inspiration. Campus casuals was among the creations of houses showing wedding shirts, boleros and toreador pants... The spirit of Mexico was found in fabrics, such as home spun cotton, as well as the fiesta of Mexican colors.

Not all of the colors were vivid. Muted blues, corals and pinks had their place. Prints were exciting with some borrowed from the modern abstractionists. Often the prints had a single giant motif such as a butterfly or a lone flower. Not only were the citrus colors popular, but Miss Pat developed a print of lemon or orange trees on a white Arnel sharkskin called "citrus crop."

White was not neglected, particularly in shorts and capris as a contrast to vivid multicolored tops.

Shorts, incidentally, were in a multitude of lengths including the knee knockers and the beachcombers — the latter a cuffed pant that ended just above the knee.

The stretch fabrics were it as far as the California designers were concerned. Synthetics were prominent as were cottons. Silks, wool jersey, flannel blends, linen and silk also were popular.

THE THIRD accent, function, was found in the new emphasis on active sportswear. It was made for the tennis courts and golf courses as well as the sidelines. Koret of California introduced a line of what it called "activated" sportswear in knits and woven fabrics whose color spectrum ranged from the hot colors to cool sands and other neutrals.

Despite the interest in the functional, however, there was considerable emphasis on the more feminine silhouette.

The sports look was softened and the lines were more fluid.

For instance, Geno of California topped tapistry banquet skirts with puffin-blouses. He also introduced a three layer silk linen called "The Triplet." Its banquet skirt gave way to a street length shift and beneath that was a brief tunic.

Tabak of California was another house which gently emphasized femininity. Lustrous pastel coordinates combined easy fit with elegant touches of satin detail. He also introduced a hint of the Orient with a kabuki shift which had cropped kimona sleeves and a beateau neckline.

THE SHIFT was a favorite among all the designers and ranged from the voluminous tents to the stingy, straight models.

The sports wear fashions varied from the most casual leisure styles to slim, trim creations such as a Miss Pat's white and navy plaid straight skirt topped with navy vest and tie shirt that was a must for the campus.

The classic blazers and cardigan jackets were not forgotten, and, of course, there were the synthetic sheers with pleated skirts in airy pastels and prints.

JOHN OF California gently tucked the tunic and also introduced what was billed as a drawstring armseye blouse. The drawstring around the arm to anchor the neckline.

KABUKI SHIFT

Welcome Wagon Elects Officers

Mrs. Douglas McVae of Lucas Valley has been named president of the Marin Welcome Club.

Other officers to be installed at the January meeting include Mesdames Roland Fanz, membership chairman; John Ross, program; John Baker, hospitality; Dennis Carey, recording secretary; Richard Berryman, corresponding secretary; N. J. Mages, treasurer, and Jay Solem, historian and publicity chairman.

Former Marinite Here From Pakistan

A surprise to many friends in Mill Valley was the return of Mrs. Andrew Cassell, who has been living in Pakistan for eight months.

She arrived in time to be present for the birthday of her mother, Mrs. John Ghiglieri of Stockton.

Among the trips Mrs. Cassell has taken since she has been in Pakistan with her husband was one to India with Mrs. Robert Croll of Los Altos, who formerly lived in Mill Valley. Mrs. Croll was on a world tour with her sister.

Toby Manuel To Present Program—Art Of Ribbons

Toby Manuel will demonstrate "The Art of Ribbons" at a meeting of the San Pedro Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting tomorrow at 2:30 p.m.

Holiday songs will be presented by the fifth grade choral group.

A holiday tea for the teachers is being planned by Mrs. Albert Walz, president, and the P-TA board. The tea will be held on Dec. 9, at the home of Mrs. Frank Prince.

For Little Girls

Wig Demonstration

A wig demonstration by a Mill Valley salon is the program scheduled by the Tamalpais YW Wives Club for Friday at 10 a.m. in Hammond Hall of the Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley. The public is welcome, the club announced.

Home Economists Predict Housework Will Disappear

Today a woman's work may never be done, but if she can just hold out until tomorrow, or 1982 to be exact, she won't have any housework to do.

By then she will throw away the plastic dishes spawned by her individual home molding set. An ultrasonic closet will automatically dryclean her garments hanging inside.

Other articles of clothing that might ordinarily fill her laundry hamper will be made of a cheap paper composition and therefore can be discarded into the incinerator, along with the dirty dishes.

These are a few of the joys of future homemaking prophesied by professional home economists during a "Modernize Your Homemaking Ideas" program sponsored in Washington, D.C., by the American Home Economics Assn. and the National Assn. of Home Builders.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 20, the 324th day of 1963 with 41 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1866, the Grand Army of the Republic, composed of veterans of the Union Army, held its first national encampment at Indianapolis, Ind.

In 1945, the Nuremburg, Germany, war crimes tribunal began hearing evidence on 24 top German leaders of World War II.

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy lifted a U. S. blockade of Cuba after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev pledged to remove bombers from the island.

A thought for the day — English novelist Anthony Trollope said: "Always remember that when you go into an attorney's office door, you will have to pay for it, first or last."

Error Of Omission Earns Black Mark At Bridge Table

We tend to give people a black mark when they do something wrong, but we don't notice it when they just sit still and do nothing.

In bridge, however, it's just as big a crime to sit when you should be active as it is to do the wrong kind of acting.

Opening lead — ♣ K

South's slam depended on the spade finesse, but he gave himself an extra chance by executing an end-play. The idea was to get East to lead spades up to dummy's ace-queen.

CLUB LEAD

Declarer next cashed the three diamonds and led a trump to dummy's jack.

The next step was to lead dummy's last club. It was conceivable, although far from likely, that East would paly the ace of clubs. If so, South would discard a spade and let East try to find a safe return.

PLAYS LOW

As it happened, East played a low club. South had to ruff, since there was no advantage in giving the lead to West.

Declarer, ready for his end-play, led a low spade toward dummy. West played low, and declarer triumphantly played dummy's eight. East had to win the trick and could not get out safely.

If East returned a spade, dummy would get a free finesse; if East returned anything else, South could discard a spade while dummy ruffed.

BLACK MARK

West should get the black mark for this hand even though he just sat still and did nothing. He should have seen what was going on from the club ruffs and the diamond plays. When South led a spade, West should have put up the jack of spades.

This would save East from the end-play. If West held the trick he could lead another spade. If declarer finessed with dummy's queen, East would take the king and get a second spade trick by returning a spade.

QUESTION

♠ A Q J 4
♥ A J
♦ 9 7 2
♣ Q J 7 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club. With four clubs and four spades, bid clubs first. You will have a comfortable rebid in spades at your next turn.

QUESTION

As dealer you hold:
♠ A K J 9
♥ 6 3
♦ K 8 7
♣ 8 7 5 3

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You have 11 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. This is not quite enough for an opening bid when you have only a four-card suit.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Tamales Bond Vote Committee To Be Named

A citizen committee will be appointed to work for the $175,000 bond issue on the Jan. 14 election, the board of trustees of the Tomales Joint Union High School District voted Monday night.

Each of the five board members is to select five citizens to be on the committee, said Supt. Anthony Matulich. This committee will meet at the high school at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

The bond election has been called to authorize money to bring all buildings at the high school up to the state earthquake-proof standards, Matulich said.

Trustees Roy Parks and Emil Valena were named to a committee to meet with representatives of the Analy High School District board to work out interdistrict agreements. This committee will meet at 2 p.m. Monday at Tomales High School.

The next curriculum committee meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school.

Pleads Guilty In Hearing Fuss

Ralph Alexander Batiste pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of disturbing the public hearing on the firing of Sausalito Police Chief Howard Goerndt last Tuesday. He also apologized in court for losing his temper.

Batiste, who likes to be known as Gregg Landers, was arrested at request of Goerndt's attorney, Harry S. Wainwright. Bail was originally set at $550, but was later lowered to $50.

"I'm sorry I got carried away," said Batiste.

"It could happen to anybody," Judge Harold J. Haley sympathized, Monday sentencing him to the time he had already spent in jail. "I ask you to control yourself when you're in a public meeting in a public place.

"When you're in the confines of your own jurisdiction, you can let go to your heart's content."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Person Doesn't Live To Be 95 By Accident—It Takes Some Doing

VAN DELLEN

A person does not live to be 95 by accident. He has what it takes to spare the body, mind, and emotions. These old-timers have not been coddled by their children nor have they led an easy life. They practiced moderation, followed the rules of hygiene, and were seldom ill. Not all have a family history of longevity.

Most oldsters love to give advice on how they have managed to live so long. The majority do so with tongue in cheek and know their tales will be taken with a grain of salt. Some give credit to the daily intake of a fifth of whisky, smoking 20 cigars a day, or never consulting a physician. One of the best of these amusing formulas is to have a physical examination every 100 years.

MANY OF THESE old, old persons have enjoyed life, including a hard job. They never hurry and take time to relax when the going is tough. Their apparent freedom from worry and anxiety is no happenstance; they avoid situations that lead to emotional problems.

This type is familiar to all of us. One of my acquaintances, a man of 90, never got angry, despite reasons for doing so. He took life in his stride, rolled with the punches, and had marvelous control of his emotions and of himself. He had learned self-discipline and seldom was highly elated or deeply depressed.

BUT ABOVE All, this nonogenarian slept well — a trait common to many of the elderly. Apparently they know how to shut off the events of the day and the problems of tomorrow. In addition, they do the best they can during the day and sleep like a baby, without feelings of guilt or regret.

Other traits that prolong life are flexibility, cheerfulness, curiosity, and the ability to concentrate on what really counts.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelopes accompanies request.)

NEUROTIC PRACTICE

B. K. writes: Does wearing dark glasses at night weaken or otherwise damage the eyes?

REPLY

No, but the practice is silly because it is difficult to see in the dark, more so when wearing tinted glasses. In addition, it could be dangerous, especially when walking out of doors or driving a car. Psychiatrists contend that those who wear colored lenses indoors and at night are neurotics who are trying to escape or hide from the public.

BEE STINGS

D. M. writes: I read where some one was bitten by a bee for the second time and died. Does this mean that if anyone is stung twice, it will prove fatal?

REPLY

No, but a person must be bitten at least once to develop an allergy to bee venom. On the other hand, some people are stung many times and never become sensitized.

ADRENAL FAILURE

O. T. writes: When the adrenal glands do not function, does this cause extreme weakness to the point of utter exhaustion?

REPLY

Yes, weakness and fatigue are the chief symptoms of adrenal gland insufficiency Send a stamped, self - addressed envelope for leaflet on adrenal insuffiency (Addison's disease).

PNEUMONIA

M. H. writes: How is pneumonia treated today?

REPLY

Specific antibiotics are helpful when the disease is caused by bacteria. But these products are of no value in viral pneumonia. In addition, the patient remains in bed, drinks large amounts of fluid, eats what appeals to him, and takes cough remedies if

Japan Touch In Front Of HAFB School

There is a touch of Japan in front of the Meadow Park School at the Hamilton Air Force Base, inspired by the American Red Cross international album exchange plan.

Third grade pupils at the school have a Japanese tea house and garden inside the front patio entrance to the school, and are working on a "Japanese album."

They visited the tea garden in Golden Gate Park and Tokyo Sukiyaki's restaurant at Fishermen's Wharf to get a little atmosphere.

Later, Mrs. Tokiko Walling, a native of Kamakura, Japan, dressed three of the children in traditional Japanese costumes for photographs and taught all of them to write with Japanese brush and ink.

Mrs. Marjorie Detsch, director of educational relations of the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said the album program is to aid international understanding and friendship.

She also announced that November is the month for high school and Junior Red Cross enrollment. The 1963 theme of the Marin County Red Cross Youth Council, covering from kindergarten through College ages, is "Happiness Is Helping Others."

High School Bands To Play At Oakland

"Patterns of Motion and Dance" will be theme of the football half-time performance in Oakland on Dec. 1 by the combined bands of San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools.

The groups, totaling 180 band members, will entertain for an estimated 12 minutes at the game, being played by the Oakland Raiders and San Diego Chargers. Sponsoring the musical performance is the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

A spokesman said the event will be televised nationally over ABC network, and television blackout will be enforced in the San Rafael area. Gordon E. Lowe is band director at Terra Linda. Melvin Stanley heads the San Rafael group.

Personal Income Is Up $3 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income rose three billion dollars in October to a record annual rate of 470.3 billion dollars, the Commerce Department announced yesterday.

The new income peak was five billion dollars above the average for the previous three months and was 22.5 billion dollars or 5 per cent higher than in October 1962.

Takes Part In Play

G. Earl Walker, son of Rev. and Mrs. George F. Walker of 267 Richardson Drive., Mill Valley, a senior at the College of Wooster, Ohio, was a member of the cast of Arthur Miller's play, "The Crucible," presented during Wooster's annual Parents' Day weekend.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Business Forecasters Take Out Crystal Balls To Make Predictions

It is that time of year again when the forecasters take out their crystal balls. Too soon to become real daring with their predictions, but not to be fairly safe in estimating that new car sales for 1963 will hit a new record of 7.7 million units. This includes 400,000 imported cars, otherwise sales would trail the 1955 record . . . And it's predicted that next year more people will buy built-in kitchen appliances—dishwashers, disposals and cooking equipment. Naturally. They're making them more attractive these days and more homes are being built and remodeled. It is also forecast that apparel sales will increase about 3 per cent in 1964, with prices continuing unchanged. . . . Shoe sales have lagged this fall, but are expected to come up in the winter and early spring.

AND SPEAKING OF SHOES, it's been stated that Junior Bootery in Santa Rosa plans to open a branch store somewhere in Marin County by next summer. No location has been specified.

PAUL N. ERICKSON of San Anselmo has been appointed assistant vice president and manager of the corporate planning department of the Bank of California.

THERE'S MORE than one way to a man's pocketbook, and apparently a favorite route is through his stomach. Goodman's in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, and on the Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, brought in three times their usual numbers of shoppers last Sunday by advertising they would give away turkey sandwiches. San Rafael served 1,450 of them, Mill Valley more than 1,000.

The firm discovered the power of free food serveral weeks ago when it first tried out a menu of roast beef.

STOCKHOLDERS of record as of Dec. 1 will participate in the first dividend of Marin County Financial Corp. after Jan. 2 at 20 cents cash per share, plus 3.5 per cent per share in stock. Marin County Financial Corp. owns Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. San Rafael.

NO TOGETHERNESS HERE. Dodge's new custom roadster "Charger" making its debut this week at the Milwaukee Auto Show has separate cockpits for driver and passenger —completely divided by leather-trimmed crash panels and a console. Developed from a standard Dodge convertible, the car has been given a 365-horsepower engine, is less than four feet high and employs a novel combination headrest and rollbar.

MEETING of Purchasing Agents Assn. of Northern California tomorrow night at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco will be addressed by Paul R. McDonald on the "Technique of Negotiation." He has presented programs for the American Management Assn. and is a procurement training specialist.

Heliport Proposal Due KTIM Airing

The proposed Marin County heliport will be discussed on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" broadcast from 9 to 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Panelists will be County Supervisor Peter H. Behr; M. F. Bagan, president of SFO Helicopter Airlines Inc.; Frank George, chairman of the heliport committee of the Marin Visitors Bureau, and Carroll Snyker, secretary of the Marin County Airport Advisory Committee.

The program will be repeated by tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m. Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator.
